

Jury wouldn't buy Sirhan mental plea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The jury believed Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's mind was impaired, says juror George Stitzel, but not to a degree to affect its verdict—death in the gas chamber for the assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

What of the month-long testimony from psychiatrists and psychologists as the defense tried to prove Sirhan lacked the mental capacity to form a mature and meaningful plot against Kennedy? "It stunk—I don't buy that stuff," said Albert N. Federico, another juror. He expressed his view to newsmen after the verdict was announced in court Wednesday.

Stitzel, 57, a pressroom foreman at the Los Angeles Times, was asked: What was the overriding consideration that made him vote the death penalty? "The gravity of the crime," he told newsmen. "The cold-blooded murder of an individual. A planned murder."

Did he believe the jury would have decreed death if the victim had not been Kennedy, a candidate for president? "I think we would . . . as long as it was this cold-blooded, heinous crime."

Other jurors said the same thing.

By most jurors' accounts, the first vote was eight in favor of the death penalty, two in favor of life in prison, and two undecided. For the next two ballots it was 10 for death, one for life, one undecided. The fourth ballot, on Wednesday morning, was unanimous.

Under California law, the same jury which finds a defendant guilty sets the penalty in a later trial. Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker set May 14 for the formal sentencing. State law provides for an automatic review in capital punishment cases and Sirhan's lawyers have said they will move for a new trial. Judge Walker also has the power to reduce the penalty to life in prison.

Grant Cooper, chief defense lawyer, said the appeal would be taken of both the first-degree murder verdict and the death sentence. He said there would be three major points:

—That Judge Walker did not exercise discretion in rejecting a pretrial deal allowing Sirhan to plead guilty to first-degree murder and be sentenced to life. Walker insisted the case was too important worldwide to be settled out of court, and the penalty should be left to a jury to decide.

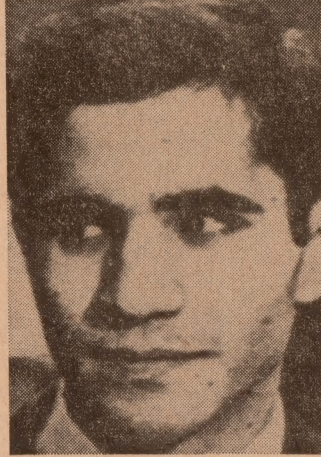

—That the grand jury which indicted Sirhan was not properly constituted.

—That Sirhan's private notebooks were seized illegally and should not have been placed in evidence. In them, Sirhan wrote repeatedly: "RFK must die."

For the time being, Sirhan will be held in the Hall of Justice here, where he has been a prisoner since shooting Kennedy last June 5. A bill now before the state legislature would allow him to be held at Vacaville Medical Facility rather than on San Quentin's death row.

In the clamor of much public opposition to the death penalty, no one has been executed in the United States since June 2, 1967, when Louis Monge went to the Colorado gas chamber for the bludgeoning slaying of his wife and three children. California has had only one execution in six years—that of Aaron Mitchell, 38, who died April 12, 1967 for the murder of a Sacramento policeman during a robbery. Eighty are under death sentence in California.

When the jury's verdict was announced in the crowded

SIRHAN SIRHAN

Sirhan 'Palestine Martyr'?

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The death sentence given Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was unjust but the only thing to be expected from the United States, a spokesman for the Palestinian guerrilla organization Al Fatah said today.

Many Jordanians expressed the same sentiment when told that a California jury had recommended that Sirhan die in the gas chamber. There was sorrow for the young Arab and bitterness toward the United States but little surprise.

"How else would you expect the Americans to treat the Palestinians?" said a university student.

News of Sirhan's sentence was front paged in Amman's two newspapers, but in keeping with a government decision at the outset of the case there was no editorial comment.

Al Fatah said it considered Sirhan one of many "freedom martyrs" who will fall for the Palestinian cause.

In recent weeks Al Fatah and the other guerrilla organizations have distributed thousands of posters depicting Sirhan as "a guerrilla not a murderer." But they did not claim the youth was a member of any guerrilla group.

The posters, printed in Arabic and English, said Zionism was responsible for the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. While Kennedy was dead and Sirhan in jail, "Zionism, the real culprit, is still at large," the posters declared.

Dogs fail to locate Any murder clues

By JOHN COBB
Of The Press Staff

Two trained police dogs, valued at $35,000 each, have been taken to the scene to try to uncover more clues in the murder of Dawn Basom of Ypsilanti, but apparently they have failed to find anything substantial.

The dogs were brought to Washtenaw County by Thomas McGinn of Philadelphia, who called Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey's office and offered to bring the animals here at no expense to the county.

One of the dogs was used several years ago in Shade Gap, Pa., to track down a recluse who had murdered a policeman while holding a young girl hostage for a week. He had led searchers in a chase through the rugged Pennsylvania mountains before shooting the policeman.

One of the two dogs being used locally, it was reported, has scars from bullet wounds received in the line of duty while working with police to track down killers.

Undersheriff Harold J. Owings said that it wasn't too often that an offer of free help came under such circumstances. He said he understood the dogs and their handler were due to return to Pennsylvania later today.

The dogs had been taken to the Gale Rd. area where Miss Basom's body was found and then later to a burned out farm house on LeForge Rd. where it is believed she may have been killed.

It had been hoped that the dogs would be able to track scents left by the killer, but recent rains and numerous persons going through the house and the murder scene may have made tracing difficult.

Madison City, Wis., police Detective Charles Luling and Dade County, Wis., Sheriff's Detective Sgt. Richard Josephson met with Sheriff Harvey and Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny yesterday to compare facts with the 11-month old slaying there of 19 year old Christine Rothchild.

Troopers search For young woman

State Police have asked for help in locating a young woman who has been missing from her Belleville home since Jan. 29.

Viola Gloria Pollock, 22, of Belleville was last seen walking in the Michigan Ave.-Belleville Rd. area near her mobile home. She has not been heard from since.

Police said she is described as being 5 feet 3 inches tall, with short brown hair and brown eyes. She weighs 120 pounds and wears glasses.

All leads as to her possible whereabouts have been exhausted with no results, according to a spokesman. Persons having any information concerning the whereabouts of Miss Pollock are asked to contact the State Police at 482-1211.

Miss Pollock becomes the second young woman to be reported missing within two days. Yesterday, Mrs. Jewell Hagood asked for assistance in locating her daughter,

N. Viets urged To pull troops

PARIS (AP) — The United States today urged North Vietnam to join in practical steps immediately to begin withdrawing outside forces of both sides from South Vietnam.

Speaking at the 14th enlarged session of the Vietnam peace talks, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge declared that this could start a series of events to end the war. He said he saw "no good reason why that process should not begin soon."

North Vietnam representative Xuan Thuy, however, replied that the only foreign troops in South Vietnam were those of the United States and its allies and what is needed is their withdrawal.

Thuy's statement seemed to rebuff, at least for the present, Lodge's appeal to end "historical" exchanges and get down to practical problems.

Tran Buu Kiem, representative of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, also continued to press a hard-line policy. He insisted that the way to end the war was for the United States to withdraw its forces and stop clinging to the present Saigon administration.

The U.S. representative said the talks had spent 13 weeks going into the history of the Vietnam conflict and that it is now time to begin serious negotiations.

"Let us, therefore, now get down to the task of bringing the war in Vietnam to an end," he said. "Let us seek practical solutions to practical problems."

"There is one practical step, which both sides can take, that would go a long way to bring the fighting to an end. That step is for the external forces on both sides to begin the process of withdrawal from South Vietnam."

Lodge repeated that the United States is "prepared to begin the withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Vietnam simultaneously with the external forces on your side."

Lodge said he saw no reason why the military and political aspects of a settlement could not be worked out at the same time. He stressed the word "practical" several times in his statement.

Hemophiliac Improves

ANN ARBOR — Authorities at University Hospital said today hemophiliac patient David Jones spent a good night, but was still in "somewhat unstable" condition.

The 27-year-old Jones underwent an 11-hour leg operation at the hospital Tuesday and another one and one-half hour operation Wednesday. Doctors said Jones is talking, but is still under intensive care.

Jones has been given several pints of whole blood and a clotting agent because of his hemophilia, a disease in which the blood does not clot.

Portland residents raised $20,000 for the operation.

River traffic booming?

Traffic lights hanging near the bridge on Rawsonville Rd. south of Grove Rd. seem to anticipate heavy use of the Huron River this year. Actually the lights have been placed to control bridge traffic, when scheduled repainting gets under way next spring and the bridge will be open to only one lane. Yes, the signal lights will be turned then. —Press Photo

ALBERT MARSHALL

Marshall New EMU Librarian

The appointment of Albert P. Marshall as head of the Eastern Michigan University Library was approved by the Board of Regents yesterday.

Marshall's appointment, which is effective Sept. 1, will make him the highest Negro administrator at EMU. He was selected from a field of 22 candidates.

He will succeed E. Walfred Erickson, who has been the head of the library since 1952, is taking a year sabbatical leave and is then expected to retire.

Marshall received his BA degree from Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo., where he is presently a librarian. He also holds a BS in library science and an MA in history from the University of Illinois and has done further graduate work in library science.

SDS gives New 'offense' To regents

By JOANN VAN WYE
Of The Press Staff

Nine members of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) interrupted the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents meeting yesterday to present the regents with the "SDS Spring Offensive."

The offensive contained a list of five demands that were read to the Regents by Frank Oschinski, spokesman for the students.

The students were demanding implementation of the black student's demands, an open admissions policy for all black and third world students in the Ypsilanti area, elimination of ROTC, military recruitment, war-related research and police training, the elimination of all University regulations pertaining to life-style and private lives of students and the establishment of a birth control clinic at the University Health Center open to all university and community residents.

"The demand for open admission is a demand for access to the university," the statement read. "The educational system in this country serves to channel its students in specific directions through grading and tracking. Income of graduates correlates more directly with their parents' income than with their level of education."

Claims support:

Crockett denies Judicial tactic

By WARREN EDWARDS
Of The Press Staff

Detroit Recorder's Judge George W. Crockett Jr., appearing in Ypsilanti last night, denied that he was deliberately forcing a court ruling on paraffin-nitrate tests to determine whether a person has shot a firearm.

The judge received a special human relations award at the annual banquet of Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor Business and Professional League.

Crockett has been both praised and condemned for his actions in releasing persons arrested in connection with the slaying of one Detroit policeman and the wounding of another in a shootout at the New Bethel Baptist Church in Detroit.

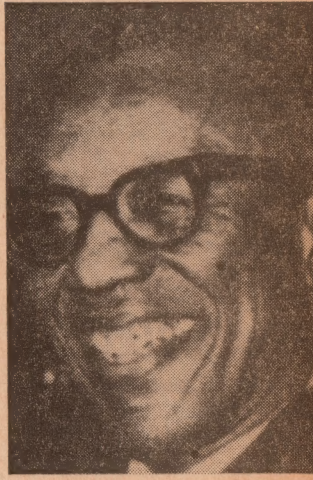

Judge Crockett said last night that his only motive in releasing the prisoners was to prevent a major racial eruption in metropolitan Detroit.

The judge was reluctant to talk to reporters and at first refused to answer any questions.

Asked about the released suspects who since have been rearrested, Crockett refused to answer.

Crockett's actions are being investigated by the State Judicial Tenure Commission. But his own attorneys dispute the commission's right to judge him, saying it is up to the courts.

The Business and Professional League presented Crockett with a human relations award two years ago. In giving him last night's special award, Dr. Lee W. Jones Jr. said that "recent events have proved us right."

JUDGE CROCKETT

He said the judge has stood for "equal justice for all" and commended him for the "manner in which he has assumed his duties."

In accepting the award, Crockett said he was extremely grateful and that two years ago he was only "a cub" on the bench and that he had made it a special function to make criminal law effective to all the people.

"Yesterday," he said, "the Supreme Court backed me up."

He was referring to a decision which limits the taking of fingerprints.

The judge argues that taking fingerprints and nitrate tests without the presence of counsel is in violation of the Constitution.

Crockett appeared before State Appeals Judge John Gillis in Detroit for nearly two hours yesterday. Crockett was accompanied by three advisers.

Belleville slates hearing

By TIM HAYES
Of The Press Staff

BELLEVILLE — The City Council here will hold a public hearing May 5 to establish the district for the Urban Renewal area.

"This is just so we meet full compliance with State of Michigan Act 189," said

Mayor Royce Smith. "Nothing is changed. No expansion of the urban renewal area is planned."

The Urban Renewal area, established about two years ago, is bounded on the east by Main St., on the south by Roys, on the north by High and on the west by Grace Baptist Church.

The City Council will also decide how members of the Citizens District Council will be appointed after the district is established.

"We are required to appoint members of the council from the district and there is only one resident in the Urban Renewal area," said Mayor Smith. "The only way we can comply with the law in establishing a district council is to make the district larger."

Letters concerning the hearing have been sent to residents of the area and also delivered by hand. There will be a list of the names of persons proposed to be appointed to the council at the office of the City Clerk up until the time of the public hearing.

That meeting will be held to discuss state legislation affecting township governments.

An effort will be made tomorrow in the Ypsilanti area to help tag out cancer.

Volunteers will be seeking contributions to the American Cancer Society in a "Tag Days" campaign from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday.

Daniel T. Quirk, chairman, announced details of the drive and issued a call for more volunteers. Mrs. Muriel Hon and Mrs. Stella Hammond are in charge of the drive which will have its headquarters in the lobby of the Huron Motor Inn.

Quirk said the Boys' Club of Ypsilanti, off-duty firemen and others have volunteered their services for street contributions.

The funds taken in here, Quirk said, are used mainly for Ypsilanti cancer patients.

The American Cancer Society, upon the recommendation of a doctor, supplies free of charge hospital beds, walkers, wheelchairs and other equipment necessary for home care. This includes drugs and dressings.

Last year, Quirk said, the Visiting Nurse Association made 335 calls on Ypsilanti cancer patients at a cost of $3,350. Another $3,235 was spent for drugs and dressings in Washtenaw County. The total cost of services in the county last year was $11,230.

Mayor proclaims month In recognizing elders

Mayor Timothy J. Dyer has issued a proclamation declaring May as Senior Citizens' Month, according to City Clerk Elizabeth E. Fenker.

In making the proclamation, the mayor asked "all local governmental agencies and civic organizations to join in community effort to give meaning to the theme of this special month: 'Meeting the Challenge of the Later Years.'"

"I further urge all citizens to assist in making this month memorable by working to provide within each community those benefits and opportunities which will add satisfaction and dignity to the lives of older Americans," he concluded.

The observance is to run from next Thursday through May 31.

University adds major

In an attempt to help meet the "marked need for professional trained people in the field of family life education," the Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents approved the addition of a major in family life education to the EMU curriculum yesterday.

The completion of the major, which will be offered this September by the Department of Home Economics, will lead to a bachelor of science degree and a teaching certificate. "The Department of Home Economics sees establishment of a major in Family Life Education as a natural and meaningful, outgrowth of its basic commitment to improvement of all aspects of family life."

The objectives of the new major will be to provide interdisciplinary academic experiences and supervised

Goode asks for 'stand; Hall re-elected president

By WARREN EDWARDS
Of The Press Staff

"Your place to make a stand is in Ypsilanti," veteran newsman Malvin A. Goode told some 200 black people last night.

The United Nations correspondent for the ABC network was the main speaker at the 25th annual banquet of the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor Business and Professional League in McKenny Union at Eastern Michigan University.

"You must make some contribution to your community," Goode said. "Give me a place to stand and I can move the world and your place to stand is Ypsilanti."

You have enough talent to make Ypsilanti the garden spot of America."

Goode, who is the father of six children and "didn't make a living wage until I was 54," begged the audience to "bring us together."

Who will answer, he asked, the problems of the poor, the problem of the war in Vietnam where 18 to 20-year-olds are being cut down without a chance to live?

"What's wrong with America?" he asked. "If you don't know it's time you found out. You are the most loyal and dedicated part of the population. Riots are merely a symptom of the unrest in the country."

He challenged the people to go out into their community and make it better and told the teachers "that if all you desire is a big car you had better get out of the profession."

He said he had driven around the Ypsilanti area. "There's a lot of land here," he said, "and there's no limit on what we can do."

Three hurt

Three persons were injured at 4:04 p.m. Wednesday in a head-on collision between two cars on Plymouth Rd., one half mile west of Berry Rd. in Superior Township.

County Sheriff's Deputies said an eastbound car on Superior Rd., driven by Bruce M. Kromer, 31, of Detroit was passing another car and was pulling back into his lane of traffic and collided head-on with the westbound car driven by Charles M. Mahoian, 19, of Livonia.

Eastern reviewing budget

By JOANN VAN WYE
Of The Press Staff

Governor William G. Milliken has recommended that Eastern Michigan University receive $14,989,308 from the state next year. The Board of Regents authorized the administration to prepare a tentative 1969-70 general operating budget following the recommendations of the governor proposed to the legislature yesterday.

This appropriation, if approved by the legislature, will be a $3.3 million increase over the 1968-69 appropriation. The university had requested $18,871,000. The budget will not take effect until July 1 and cannot be completed until the state appropriations are announced.

Under the governor's proposal, salaries for academic and professional staff would be increased 4 per cent for increased cost of living and merit increase would be in a range of 3 per cent. Employees represented by unions would receive increases determined by their negotiated contracts.

Student wages would also receive a 10-cent hike to comply with federal minimum wage law provisions. Services, supplies and materials needed to operate the university are expected to cost 4 to 5 per cent more next year.

In addition, allowance will be made in the tentative budget for increased enrollment. The student enrollment is expected to increase by about 1,000 students.

The Board of Regents also accepted four grants totaling $471,557.

The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) awarded the university a grant of $238,400 for special education. The funds will be used primarily for fellowships for seniors and graduate students and trainee programs under which students will learn to teach children who are mentally retarded, deaf, crippled, emotionally disturbed or otherwise handicapped.

The Mott Foundation awarded the university two grants. The first one of $69,000 will be used to continue the administrative intern program. Eastern selects 12 graduate students each year who are interested in school administration and give them a $5,000 stipend. The students work part-time in the Flint school system and take courses given by the EMU faculty.

The second Mott award — $99,683 — was for the continuance and expansion of the Center for Community Education.

We knew it all along; City 'appreciates' EMU

A new survey conducted as a research paper by a graduate student indicates some slightly surprising but welcome things about how Ypsilantians feel about "their university."

The survey, although limited in scope and not intended as a scientific study, shows that by and large residents and businessmen here are proud and happy to have Eastern Michigan University as an integral part of the community.

The survey, conducted last month, is entitled "Attitudes in the Ypsilanti Community Toward Eastern Michigan University." It was aimed only at finding definite attitude trends about the university, not indications of knowledge. The study was also designed to identify any areas of "hostility" and "found none."

Because of the sudden recent growth of the university and accompanying pressures put on community facilities such as streets, parking and utilities, the surveyor thought it a proper time to assess the mood of the citizenry through an extensive questionnaire.

One major conclusion drawn by the author was that there is "no unpleasant 'town-gown' schism" between the university and community. If fact, the survey indicates Ypsilantians "overwhelmingly agree that the University has a beneficial effect on the community."

"Responses to this questionnaire seem to indicate a highly supportive and favorable community attitude toward Eastern Michigan University," the scholar concludes.

As one recommendation, the researcher says "It may be that the University needs to consider its policies in terms of making facilities and resources available to the community. If there was one area in which the responses could be considered on the negative side, it was in this area."

The paper also concludes that the community is "interested in cultural and academic affairs much more than sports" and the university "must increase efforts in these areas."

It is refreshing to see new evidence that the Ypsilanti community, on the whole, truly appreciates the valuable contribution our university makes, in spite of an occasional day-to-day difference.

It like a family that has a growing teen-ager who's paying his own way — there's a spat once in awhile, but the parents wouldn't trade him for any amount.

Sign up now for 'Concerts'

What has been termed "a spectacular entertainment bargain" is being offered all residents of the Ypsilanti community, but the deadline is this weekend.

The bargain is "membership" in next year's Community Concert Association, now in its 28th year of operation in Ypsilanti.

By signing up now with one of the more than 100 volunteer workers, residents will be able to attend the top musical attractions which the Community Concert group will bring to Ypsilanti during the 1969-70 season. As a bonus, persons joining now will be able to attend the final concert of this season.

The Community Concert plan was begun in 1928 and is now active in nearly 800 North American cities. It operates on a simple formula — season ticket memberships are sold at reasonable prices during a special campaign such as is now going on.

When the sales drive is over, and the amount of money available is known the number of concerts and the stars for the following season are chosen. No more tickets are sold (except to new college students next fall), meaning that if you want to take advantage of a real entertainment bargain, now is your (only) chance. Sign-up headquarters are in the Huron Motor Inn lobby.

SCLC debt turned over To Justice Department

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department is still "studying" what to do about taking forceful action to collect the $71,795 owed the government by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference for cleaning up after the month-long "Resurrection City" encampment.

That's what Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) has been told by Asst. Atty. Gen. William Ruckelshaus in response to a pointed inquiry as to what is being done on this long-pending matter.

In a recent blunt letter to Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, Gross pointed out that the Interior Department, after repeatedly trying to collect this obligation, turned the matter over to the Justice Department last November.

Gross also noted that Dr. Ralph Abernathy, the alleged leader of this encampment, has stated that SCLC had no intention of paying this bill.

In replying, Ruckelshaus contends the Justice Department is giving the case "active attention," but provides no clue on what if anything will be done and when.

In congressional circles, the prediction is being made that the debt will never be collected.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy is again confounding both partisans and critics by his strange aloofness from the raging battle over the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. The Minnesota "peacenik" has yet to utter a word or take any part in this intensifying bipartisan controversy.

Last year at this time he was hectically scampering about the country declaiming and fulminating against the Vietnam war, the "military industrial complex," and soaring defense costs. No day passed that he wasn't making or trying to make headlines on these vote-winning issues.

But it's very different this year — now that he is not running for anything for the time being. Not only has McCarthy said nothing about the raging ABM question, but very little about Vietnam. In fact, he has said very little about anything. Since the session started in January his appearances in the Senate and at committee meetings have been few and brief.

One of his longest stays, although he said nothing, was when the Senate voted to increase congressional pay from $30,000 to $42,500. He favored it.

Labor report

Labor sources see End to Viet war 'By midsummer'

By Victor
Riesel
Press
Special
Writer

WASHINGTON — Deep inside labor, a handful of awesomely well-informed men are saying that the U.S. will be moving out of South Vietnam's waterlogged trenches "by midsummer." The war "will bottom out" then, they have been told.

This is reported as flatly as they put it, since "they" are the same sources which told this columnist — well in advance (almost a year)—that Lyndon Johnson planned to support Saigon with more than 500,000 troops. Grim history has corroborated the accuracy of labor's intelligence sources.

It has been said that these sources are in labor's own alleged "state department," or its own so-called foreign service, or its own long channels of information cutting across the world. This is not so. Their information came directly from the President of the U.S. There is a new President. A Republican President. But there is no need to assume that labor's sources went the way of all transitions.

Thus it is consequential to report that, in these labor circles at least, they are talking of the beginning of the "phase-out of the war" coming in some 90 days.

There is evidence that President Nixon and labor proxy George Meany are eager to develop an intimate relationship between the new administration and the old movement — perhaps as close as it was between the immediate past president and organized labor. The machine-gun swiftness of news explosions during the past eight years has blurred the memory of the early antagonism between Lyndon Johnson and labor. So awkward was the early "political romance," it took a public dinner and open confessions of mutual affection to make peace amid avowed pledges to "bury the hatchet." Today Mr. Nixon's low-voiced approach has made the honeymoon with labor easier than the first days with Mr. Johnson.

President Nixon, having sent his first team to the AFL-CIO's think-in at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., now has invited labor's first team, the full squad, to the White House for a long private discussion.

They will be led to the White House early on May 5 for their first en masse dialogue with Richard Nixon.

This will be six months almost to the very hour, since this very same team threw everything it had into a truly last-minute drive to defeat Dick Nixon. But the name-calling is forgotten now. Each side wants to live with each other as warmly, as pleasantly and as long as possible. And as publicly as feasible.

Mr. Nixon will be pressed hard — since Mr. Meany can't really control all those labor chiefs. There will be much heated talk about "tax justice." This is labor's thing for 1969. Its followers are screaming under the load. They want action now — and the observer need only look at the United Steelworkers election to see where rank-and-file members dumped some famed district directors who had been advocating public programs which would cost additional public monies.

There are maritime union chiefs on the council who see the death of five to seven thousand jobs on lush American liners and old freighters, now being laid up. And these men will push Mr. Nixon with demands for a new merchant marine.

There are men whose industries are being hit hard by imports — and they will urge Mr. Nixon to use his presidential power to choke these off in steel, shoes, textiles and manufactured goods flowing in from across the world in general and from Mexico in particular.

There are those who will jump him with demands for a $2-an-hour minimum wage. And all of them will demand more spending, not less, to implement the programs of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

They will urge him to spend and spend — and if he won't advocate this, at least would he please not oppose the liberal-labor controlled Congress when it sends up the bills.

They will argue for the end of tight money. They will say there is "no mechanical trade-off between inflation and unemployment." Their position is that this is "economically false and loaded with social dynamite."

Nixon considers merger Of minority job programs

By Paul A.
Scott
Special
Press
Writer

WASHINGTON — President Nixon is giving serious thought to merging two ongoing programs designed to open up more jobs for minorities.

The merger would place under the reins of a unified leadership industry's current effort in two separate directions: To hire the hard-core unemployed and to eliminate job discrimination.

The National Alliance of Businessmen concentrates on finding work for the hard-core jobless. Its goal is to put 610,000 on payrolls by 1971. It relies heavily on federal manpower subsidies to reduce the cost of training workers.

Plans for Progress, an older, more low-key voluntary effort, deals with the broader problem of upgrading all minority workers.

The Labor Department furnishes most of the funds for both programs. Under Nixon's merger plan, the Department will be given over-all control of the new joint effort.

In many cities both groups use the same corporate volunteers to carry their respective banners. And there is often an overlap in drives to find new jobs.

Eastern European Communists have come up with an intriguing theory about the background of the recent Sino-Soviet border clashes along the Ussuri River.

As reported to American diplomats in Poland, it is this:

The Kremlin reaction to recent events is based on desire to so weaken the hold to Chairman Mao Tse-Tung in China that the way for rapprochement between the two communist giants again may be opened.

According to this communist view, the regular Chinese Communist Army under the control of Marshal Lin Biao, the Chinese Defense Minister, is the principal prop of aging Chairman Mao Tse-Tung.

Whether the internal opposition group would be able to take over the government is uncertain, but unquestionably Chairman Mao and his supporters would be on the defensive and politically weakened.

While American intelligence authorities say this interpretation is conjectural, they believe it is worth further examination because of other confirming evidence.

For example, the Soviets used regular army units, including armor, in the latest border clash and recently decreed a permanent alert on the Mongolia border area.

Marshal Alexei I. Leonov, flew late in March to Ulan Utor, capital of Mongolia, as head of a Soviet military mission. He was commander of Soviet signal corps which played a major role in preparing for last August's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

American intelligence experts point out that in event of a Sino-Soviet conflict in the Far East, Mongolia, a vast stretch of real estate wedged between Siberia and China, would occupy a uniquely strategic position.

20 YEARS AGO

April 24, 1949 — A bird thought to have carried a lighted cigarette to its attic nest at the home of Horace Frazer at 706 Watling St. was blamed for a fire which caused an estimated $50 damage to the house Saturday.

Firemen said the blaze burned a small hole through the ceiling before being extinguished.

Although the nest was destroyed, the birds flew away from the fire apparently unharmed.

50 YEARS AGO

April 24, 1919 — Ann Arbor's May Festival will be held May 14, 15 and 16 in Hill Auditorium. It will assemble a group of musical celebrities such as has seldom before been brought together at one time outside of the great operatic centers of the country. Many leaders from the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera companies will fill the bill.

The entire event will represent a people's thanksgiving for the blessings of peace which have come and a tribute to the gallant men who fought and died.

75 YEARS AGO

April, 1894 — It was a happy thought that led the Women's Relief Corps of the Department of Michigan to adopt the Michigan Rose as their floral emblem and they and we are indebted to Mrs. J. Willard Babbitt of this city for the thought.

Mrs. Babbitt has been active in the work of the Corps, and fertile in devising means to stimulate interest in it.

Her zeal and resources have been recognized by honors from the department and national conventions.

Viet deaths Rise slightly

SAIGON (AP) — American battle deaths in the Vietnam war totaled 216 last week, the U.S. Command reported today, a slight increase over the previous week and still well above the average before the Viet Cong offensive began nine weeks ago.

The weekly report said 1,602 Americans were wounded, a big drop from 2,691 the week before.

The enemy death toll rose sharply to 3,379. The total the week before was 2,938.

Combat fatalities among troops of the Saigon government also increased considerably, from 244 during the week ending April 12 to 329 last week.

In the long period of comparative lull before the enemy offensive began Feb. 23, the weekly U.S. death toll generally ranged from about 150 to 190. In recent weeks the total has decreased steadily again as the enemy attacks have slackened off.

Last week's toll of American combat dead was 12 more than the 204 reported killed in action the week before.

Since the preliminary peace talks began in Paris last May 13, 11,332 Americans have been killed. The report brought the number of Americans killed in Vietnam since 1961 to 34,283.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese dead now total at least 484,450.

The weekly report said 1,304 Americans are missing or captured—a drop of 18 from the previous week. This resulted from the reclassification of men from missing or captured to killed in action.

DeGaulle's vote threat May lead to his doom

PARIS (AP) — Indications are mounting that this may be President Charles de Gaulle's last week in office.

The 78-year-old French leader has said he would resign immediately if the referendum Sunday votes down his proposal to transfer some of the central government's powers to regional administrations and reduce the Senate to a consultative role.

The newspaper Figaro published a poll today showing that for the first time since De Gaulle made his resignation threat, opponents of the constitutional changes outnumber supporters 53 per cent to 47 per cent. As recently as March 31, polls showed 56 per cent planned to vote yes in the referendum.

The switch came after De

Gaulle's televised address linking his political future to the little understood, 38-page reform bill.

De Gaulle himself indicated doubt Wednesday about the outcome when he told his Cabinet at the end of their weekly session: "We'll meet again—in principle—next Wednesday."

The merits of the proposed changes have been overshadowed by the question of confidence in De Gaulle's stewardship, which is exactly what he intended. The threat of defeat has spurred the Gaullists to frantic new efforts, but many voters still appear apathetic about the referendum and the future of the 11-year-old De Gaulle epoch.

The president will broadcast another appeal for support Friday night. His traditional argument, "De Gaulle or chaos," appears to have lost much of its force due to the lack of threat from the left and the prospect of a replacement for the old man.

De Gaulle's resounding victory in the legislative elections last June came in the wake of six weeks of student violence and labor strikes that scared the middle class into the arms of the Gaullists.

N. Ireland bombings continue

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Scattered violence punctuated an uneasy quiet in Northern Ireland Wednesday night after the government agreed to the Roman Catholic demand for universal suffrage.

Shortly after midnight saboteurs blew up an unguarded water pumping station near Belfast airport. The blast reduced water supplies to the capital, where water already is being rationed because of two pipe explosions last week.

Late Wednesday night a Catholic school in Tírghrúil was damaged by a fire bomb.

The Catholic Civil Rights Association, which has campaigned for six months in the streets for "one man, one vote," announced it was trying to call off all street marches and demonstrations for the next few days to tighten discipline among its followers.

Biafran War end Not seen

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The end of the Nigerian civil war is not in sight despite the reported capture Wednesday of Umuahia, Biafra's provisional capital.

One high-ranking Nigerian officer said he expected five more years of fighting before federal forces subdue the Ibo tribesmen of Eastern Nigeria who seceded from the federation on May 30, 1967.

The Biafrans are expected to make their capital now in Orlu, 36 miles northwest of Umuahia. It is near the two airstrips by which they receive arms and other supplies.

In addition to pockets of resistance behind the lines of the federal troops that took Umuahia, the Biafrans claim they control three quarters of Owerri, 30 miles west of Umuahia. The federal 3rd Marine Division took the town last October but authorities in Lagos now admit one brigade is isolated there.

There is no anticipation in Lagos of a Biafran surrender. The secessionists last Sunday rejected an appeal from the Organization of African Unity to agree to a unified Nigeria before starting peace talks and a cease-fire.

The Nigerians claim they have pushed the Biafrans into a tightening circle of about 2,000 square miles, compared to the 29,000 square miles Biafra claimed when it declared itself independent. But despite the advance of the 1st Federal Division to Umuahia from the northeast, two other federal divisions have been unable to report any advances.

The fall of Umuahia is, nonetheless, a serious blow to the Biafran cause. It had been the capital since the Nigerians took Enugu in October 1967.

Federal authorities said the Biafran defenses wilted under heavy bombardment after a 48-hour fight. The Nigerians have plenty of artillery while the Biafrans rely largely on homemade mortars.

A government statement said Biafran losses of men and equipment were severe and federal losses were light. No mention was made of the thousands of civilian refugees who had fled to the area.

MISS LINDA LAMEY

MISS CHRISTINE GLADDING

Ypsilanti area Weddings set

Mid-summer and early winter wedding dates have been decided upon by these two Ypsilanti area couples who announce their betrothal today.

LAMEY—LEONARD
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Lamey of 6265 Milan-Oakville Rd., Milan, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Marie, to Sgt. Gary V. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Leonard of 7945 Willow Rd., Milan.

The bride-to-be is a 1966 graduate of Lincoln Consolidated High School and is employed as a court recorder for the 14th District Court in Ypsilanti.

The prospective bridegroom, graduated from Lincoln Consolidated High School, has recently returned from a year's U.S. Army tour-of-duty in Vietnam. He will now be stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga.

A December 6 wedding date has been set.

GLADDING—KNAB

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Gladding of 1423 Whittier Rd. announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine Lynn, to Dale D. Knab of Ann Arbor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwood Knab of LaSalle, Mich.

The wedding has been set for July 12.

Miss Gladding, who attended St. John's High School, is now employed by Richardson Pharmacy in Ypsilanti.

Knab, a 1963 Monroe High School graduate who received his B.S. degree in pharmacy from the University of Michigan last year, is also an employee at Richardson Pharmacy.

New 'Dior' opens

Paris salon sells doghouses

PARIS (AP) — From doghouses to diapers, you can buy it at Dior.

Yes, Christian Dior—the "haute" of the haute couture houses in Paris.

The Dior salon, where the world's wealthy women come to applaud and buy dresses costing $1,000 and up, takes only a fraction of space in the company's several adjoining buildings on the Avenue Montaigne.

Ready-to-wear clothes, coordinated with, but not copied from, the couture line designed each season by Marc Bohan, retail for about $200 to $500.

The Miss Dior costumes—aimed at a younger, kickier audience—are available from $100 up. All have the same careful cut and tailoring that distinguish Dior couture clothes.

To the rear of the boutique is the men's wear shop—just the place for husbands who can't possibly understand their wives' fascination for Dior.

For the very, very small fry, there's another small building which houses Baby

Dior—a collection of items that's just what the name implies.

Service— A scout's Good deed

Every Girl Scout promises "to help other people" and, according to a report just released by Mrs. James Lester, Service Project Coordinator for the Eastern Washtenaw Area, this is no idle promise.

Her report, which covers a six-months' period, shows that Girl Scout troops lent a helping hand in a variety of ways. In almost every case, says Mrs. Lester, the service project was directly related to the on-going program of the troop.

Many Girl Scout troops extended service to older people. Mrs. Lester attributes this to the fact that our population is so mobile and children often live hundreds of miles away from their own grandparents.

One troop raked leaves for older people in their own neighborhood another troop visited with senior citizens and took them apples, and in another troop each girl "adopted" a grandparent. The Scouts gave parties, made decorations, and sang to brighten the days of nursing home residents.

Hospitals were often on the receiving end of Girl Scout service, also. The girls made tray favors, sent cards, collected magazines and books, and made scrapbooks to help cheer up hospital patients.

Several community groups benefited from the work of the Girl Scouts. One troop made decorations for the lobby of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic. Five troops assisted with projects of the Ypsilanti Community Chest which helps finance Huron Valley Girl Scout Council operations. Three troops helped out on the March of Dimes by addressing and stuffing envelopes.

The Scouts provided baby-sitting for PTA meetings and they also provided the same service at almost all the polling places at last fall's elections. One troop made and served refreshments to voters and another conducted a voter registration drive for two elections.

Hospital needs junior aides

It is springtime and the Junior Auxiliary at Beyer Memorial Hospital is again looking for recruits.

The second interview date is Saturday for teen-age girls who would like to wear the striped uniform of the auxiliary and work during the summer at the hospital.

Included in the tasks of the juniors are reading to patients, answering patients' lights, making up empty rooms, running errands, feeding patients, watering flowers, and delivering mail and ice water.

Mrs. William J. Simpson, chairman for the auxiliary (sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital), asks that girls interested in submitting applications call her at 483-5177. Applications are available from high school counselors and have to be recommended by a counselor in order to be considered.

The second interview session is set up for 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the staff room at Beyer Hospital.

Orientation classes will start May 10, and girls are asked to put in 50 hours during June, July and August. Those who worked last year must submit applications and be interviewed again, but need not attend orientation sessions.

Girls must be 15 years old by June 1 to be eligible.

New officers of the Eastern Michigan University Wives Club were elected at the April monthly meeting.

Mrs. Daniel S. Turner takes the presidency from Mrs. Edward L. Compere, Jr. Other officers are: Mrs. Robert G. Zumwinkle, first vice-president; Mrs. Charles E. Helppie, second vice-president; Mrs. William Underwood, treasurer; Mrs. Michael H. Jones, recording secretary; and Mrs. Donald W. Magoon, corresponding secretary.

The Scholarship Committee, consisting of Mrs. Harold E. Simmons, Mrs. Bruce K. Nelson, and Mrs. Theodore Hefley, Chairman, announced that the scholarship for the fall semester 1969-70 has been awarded to Shirley Powers, a second-semester freshman from Detroit.

Miss Powers, 17, a graduate of Cass Technical High School last June, has a 4.0 (straight A) grade average for her first semester at Eastern Michigan University. She is a major in the Department of Business Education.

The scholarship has been awarded each year since 1955, first as a cash award of $70, and then, beginning in 1959, as a scholarship covering one semester's tuition. The present scholarship, still covering one semester's tuition and fees, is $195.00.

With 16,478 votes reported, Miss Judith Liedel, member of Ypsilanti's National Association of the Physically Handicapped, Inc. (NAPH) chapter, will be among the five finalists in the Queen Contest sponsored by the Michigan NAPH district convention.

Winner of the contest, to be held Saturday and Sunday in Flint, will receive either a U.S. Savings Bond or an all-expense paid trip to Indian Trails Camp next fall.

Miss Liedel lives in Maybee, Mich., and works at the Goodwill Industries at Monroe. She formerly attended the Rackham School of Special Education on the EMU campus.

Representing the Ypsilanti NAPH group at the Michigan area convention will be Miss Karen Harneck, Miss Judith Liedel, Miss Ruth E. Loyster and Mrs. Catherine Palmieri.

At its annual meeting Monday, the Washtenaw County Federation of Women's Clubs installed the following officers for the following year:

President — Mrs. Roe Bennett of Ypsilanti; first vice-president — Mrs. George Byers of Ann Arbor; second vice-president, Mrs. Fred Arend of Saline; treasurer — Mrs. William Day of Willis; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Kern of Saline; and corresponding secretary — Mrs. Howard Fanslow of Ypsilanti.

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: For those who are home seamstresses and like to do their cutting-out on the bed, try taking the extension leaves from your dining room table (usually found in a closet 'cause they are seldom used) and putting them together on your bed.

It makes a great cutting table.

I have even placed one on a dining room chair to hold my partially stitched pieces. Gives me a great deal of extra room. Billie S.

Let's have some drum beating and trumpets for this little stitch-in-time.

Don't most of us have extra table leaves in the closet?

Why not put 'em to use? Three cheers for Billie. Heloise

TV film On drugs Available

The second TV documentary in the trilogy on narcotic addiction sponsored by Michigan Blue Cross and Michigan Blue Shield is now available without cost, to church, social and similar groups.

"Flowers of Darkness" is narrated by Paul Newman and traces the flow of heroin from the opium poppy fields in the Middle East to our nation's big cities, where most drug addicts are found.

The 16mm color film, appearing on Channel 4 in Detroit April 14, received excellent critical acclaim.

The first film in the series, "A Movable Scene," has been on tour around the state since March and is booked through July. This film, narrated by Robert Mitchum, deals with "soft" drugs such as marijuana, with the accent on young users in San Francisco, New Orleans, New York, Rome and Istanbul.

The third film in the trilogy has not yet been scheduled for television viewing. It is called "Bridge from Noplace" and is narrated by Rod Steiger, probing the motivating forces behind abuse of dangerous drugs and exploring treatment and rehabilitating centers, and group therapy.

The trilogy — "The Distant Drummer" — was produced by the Airline Foundation and George Washington University. It is made available through the National Association of Blue Shield Plans. Its purpose is to inform adults and students about drug traffic, drug usage, and resulting effects upon users, their families and the community.

To schedule the second film at no cost, phone William DeGrace at 985-3500, ext. 8208, in Detroit, or write: Public Relations Department No. 54, Michigan Blue Shield, 441 East Jefferson Ave., Detroit 48226.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

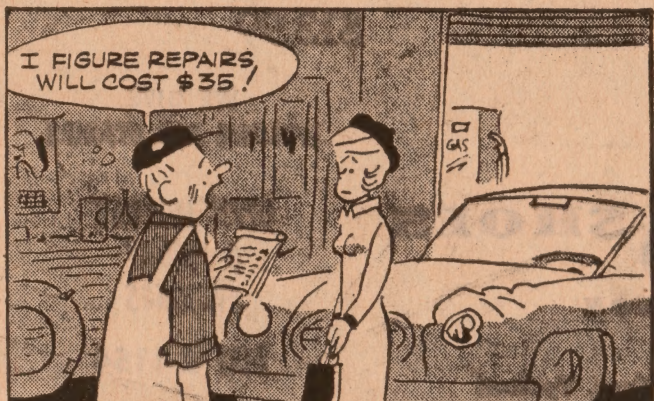

A BEGGAR STOOD in front of St. Louis' most fashionable hotel holding out a hat in each hand. The doorman said, "I don't want to chase you, mister, but what's the idea of TWO hats?" The beggar winked, and confided, "Business has been so good, I decided to open a branch office."

A Westchester golf club admitted a passionate, if hopeless player named Putney, who began his first round with a slice into a clubhouse window, followed by a vicious low hook that caught the president's wife squarely in her derriere. "What do you think we ought to do now?" whispered the flustered Mr. Putney to his caddy. "Well," said the caddy, "if we climb through this hedge here, we can catch a bus back to town."

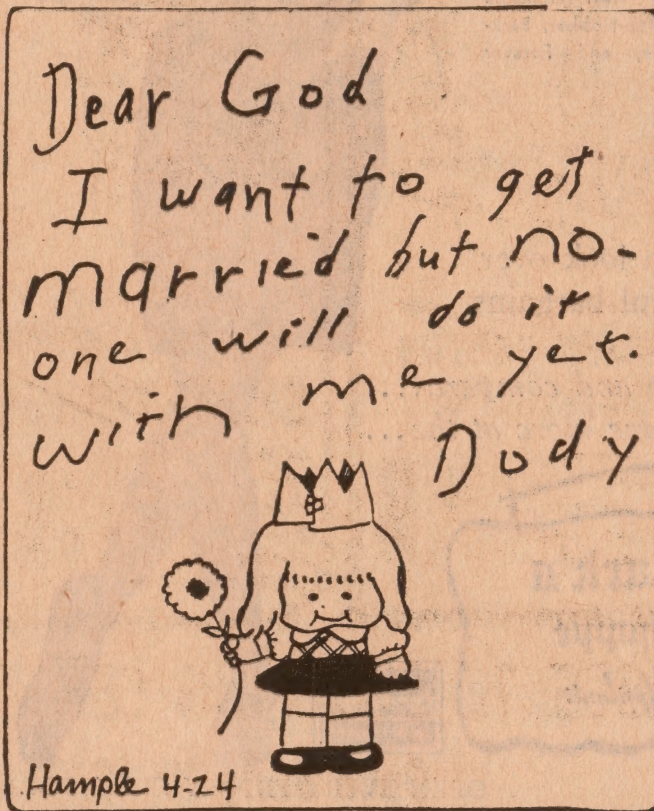

SIGNS OF THE TIME: On the roadside near Atlantic City: "Our hotel is so near the beach we have to station a lifeguard in every room!" On a road under repair in Maine: "Drive carefully! Men supposed to be working!" On the door of a pet shop: "For sale cheap, a talking parrot. Owner no longer can stand parrot's political opinions." Outside chiropractist's office: "Why be two feet from ease and contentment?" In a cafe for cannibals: "Be sure to try our him on rye."

DEAR ABBY:

Number 9? He'll think That you are kidding

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You always say, "If you think he's the kind of guy who will throw it up to you later, tell a man nothing about your past before you marry him." I agree with you, it's none of his business.

I was a prostitute for a while, been married eight times, and have been in jail.

In about a month I will marry for the ninth time. I have been walking a very straight path ever since I met this guy. He's the first really decent man I've ever known and I want to be decent, too.

What if somebody who knows my past says something to him? People like to talk, and my fifth husband's sister works in the same plant where my future husband works. Also my third husband works there.

I am 39 and the man I'm marrying is 47. He spent 20 years in the army and came out a first sergeant, so you know he has got it made.

He's a little square. Doesn't drink or smoke, and I know he loves me. How much should I tell him? Lady with a Past

DEAR LADY: In your case, it would be wise to tell him that you've been married before. (Tell him he's number Nine; he'll probably think you're kidding.) If he asks any other questions, be prepared to answer them honestly. If he doesn't, keep quiet, continue to walk the straight path, and try to draw the curtain on your past. If he really loves you, and you behave yourself, he won't believe rumors, neither will he dig for dirt. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I heard you say that more wild birds and game actually die of starvation, attacks from other animals, and from freezing weather than die by a hunter's bullet. You were trying to make the point that the hunter's bullet was a "merciful" death.

Following the same logic more people are killed every year by automobiles than by a hunter's bullet, so if a bullet is a more merciful death, then perhaps all the hunters should shoot each other, which isn't such a bad idea.

Hates Hunters
 DEAR HATES: It's not such a good idea either. uBT don't joke about it, unfortunately many do.

DEAR ABBY: Two of my relatives (both male) visited me yesterday and they got into a fight, and one of them (age 27) broke a window. It wasn't a window in our apartment, it was one in the front entrance of this apartment building.

I told his mother about it, and she said, "If the manager asks you what happened, tell him you don't know."

Boy, this really made me mad! That overgrown 27-year-old baby ought to take the responsibility and pay for the damage.

If I tell the manager who did it, my whole family will be against me. What should I do? Arlington, Va.

DEAR ARLINGTON: Tell the manager; and if your whole family is "against you" for doing the right thing, shame on them! Why protect a chiseler?

Confidential to "Future Actress": Don't depend on "breaks." If you are seriously considering making "acting" your career, prepare for a lot of hard work. There are fine schools where you will be taught speech, drama, singing, dancing, and how to fall gracefully — which is probably the most useful thing you could learn.

DR. BROTHERS:

'Anarchic Bohemian' teen May live up to her label

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: Our 15-year-old daughter is becoming almost impossible to live with. She is never happy except when she is disagreeing with her father or me. On day school's working for some foolish political group, the next she is all wrapped up in learning to play the guitar. For a while she refused to eat red meat, now she eats only by herself. She's always been an unusual girl, but she's stretching our patience now.—L.B.

Dear Mrs. B.: Dr. Lillian Cohen Kovar, of the William Alanson White Institute, feels that adolescent girls tend to belong to certain types, depending upon the self-image that their parents have confirmed for them. If her parents tend to see her as a certain kind of girl, she is likely to try to live up to their expectations, whether this means being obedient or socially successful.

Ideally, a girl's parents do not attempt to confine their daughter to a certain role, but allow her to develop according to her own interests and inclinations. She is able to achieve spontaneity and genuineness in her strides toward maturity because her family has encouraged her to see herself as a person worthy of love and respect.

But many young girls achieve only limited autonomy, being hindered by self-images that deny them full self-realization.

Dr. Kovar describes one type of adolescent girl as the "anarchic Bohemian," a girl who has been confirmed by her parents as being peculiar or eccentric. While it's natural for parents to want to believe that their children are unique and special in comparison to other people's children, overemphasizing a child's unusual qualities may distort the child's view of herself in relation to his peers. She may feel impelled to win approval by consistently behaving in a bizarre and unconventional manner.

Some rebellion and experimentation is natural during adolescence as the young person tries on assorted identities. But indiscriminate rebellion that seems to be more compulsive than exploratory may signal emotional problems.

Some observers suggest that parents sometimes unconsciously encourage their children to act out their own repressed impulses.

The mother who feels constrained in her own role may unwittingly push her daughter into unconventional and attention-getting types of behavior. At the same time, the adolescent's apparent rebellion allows the parent to rationalize the anger and envy he feels toward his own child.

Sometimes an adolescent may resort to flamboyant or forbidden behavior in a desperate attempt to win the parent's interest.

Your daughter's erratic behavior is understandably frustrating and tiresome to you but disparagement is not likely to reduce family tensions. Your daughter needs to feel that your love and concern for her are unconditional, that you accept and support her.

YOUR HEALTH:

Sudden loss of blood To brain brings faint

By DR. LESTER COLEMAN

My wife has a tendency to faint as soon as she is upset. Can this be prevented by any drugs? What is the best way to get her out of a faint? Mr. A.G., Rhode Island

Dear Mr. G.: It is undeniable that some people become faint more easily than others. One of my patients fainted at the onset of every thunderstorm. At first this sounds somewhat silly but when one understands the process of fainting, even this unusual provocation can call for sympathy rather than annoyance.

When a person faints it is due to a sudden loss of the blood that normally circulates to the brain. A sudden emotional upset, a telegram bearing a frightening message, a sudden fall of blood sugar, severe pain, may cause an attack of syncope or fainting.

There are a number of physical conditions such as heart disease, lung disorders, and the hardening of the arteries to the brain which can cause fainting. Before an attack of fainting is entirely attributed to emotional causes, every avenue of study of the body must be made to be sure that a physical condition is not overlooked.

Because it is the temporary reduction in the blood flow to the brain that causes fainting, the victim should be placed flat with the head slightly lower than the rest of the body to encourage greater flow of blood to the brain. Belts, ties, bras, and tight girdles should be loosened. Under no circumstances should liquor be forced down the throat. A little patience and encouragement to the frightened fainter is all they need for recovery.

Drugs to prevent fainting are used only after the exact physical reasons for it have been established.

TEEN DATELINE:

Guy suspects 'doubles deal'

By ELE and WALT DULANEY

Dear Ele and Walt: I have loved this girl for nearly two years. She knew it but, until now, gave me no encouragement. Currently, she is suggesting all sorts of dates. I am suspicious because every one of them involves doubling with another boy and it's always the same boy.

He is not particularly a friend of mine. We don't have the same interests, but he is always the person she suggests. When he can't make it, she always has a reason why she can't go after all. Do you think I am right to be suspicious?—Lancing.

Dear Lancing: Accept the next three date ideas she suggests but tell her you're tired of "Mark" and you'd rather double with "Tim, Mike or Bill." If she accepts, you know your suspicions are groundless, that she just doesn't want to be alone with you right now.

After two years of loving her without encouragement, we can understand her reluctance to let things get too secluded. But if it's "No Mark, no date" on three hands, then deal yourself out of this game. You'll know for a fact where her real interest lies. —Ele and Walt.

Dear Ele and Walt: I read Date Line and I know that sometimes you let readers express themselves. I am a foreign student. There are some things about American humor that I do not think are kind and should be corrected.

Just recently, I was taught some American slang by two students. I thought it was good of them to help me this way. When I tired it out at a party, I was humiliated to discover I had said some very bad words that didn't mean what I had been told. This caused me to leave the party in shame and made it difficult to see my hosts again without severe embarrassment.

Please tell your readers not to play this kind of joke upon people who are trying to learn your language. It is heartless humor. —Foreign Student.

Readers: Let's watch the tricks we play on international visitors. Saying that pineapples grow in trees is a harmless jest, but sugarcoating vulgarity and sliding it unknown into their vocabularies is a real act of unkindness. If you want to help reach toward the "good earth" concept of life, start by helping these guests feel at home in America and let them learn to trust our words.

Detroit welfare mothers March for allowances

LANSING (AP) — More than 50 welfare mothers from Detroit — some wearing buttons proclaiming "Mother Power" — crowded outside Gov. William Milliken's office Wednesday demanding a $60 spring clothing allowance be added to their payments.

Milliken, who was scheduled to work in his Detroit office, had so informed the mothers, an aide said.

"We promised we'd be here, so we came," Mrs. M. M. Blakely, a spokesman for the mothers, explained simply.

Robert Helmbrecht, a Milliken aide, read the mothers a letter the governor had sent to Mrs. Joyce Ashford, chairman of the Detroit Metropolitan Welfare Rights Association.

"I want you to know I think the present welfare system is inadequate, demeaning, inefficient and has so many disincentives built into it that it encourages continued dependency," the governor wrote.

But, Milliken said, "there is no money in the state budget for such (a clothing) allowance."

The governor's letter pointed out that he had requested $8.3 million for a cost of living increase for welfare recipients, $3.5 million to initiate an "income disregard" program to encourage potential wage earners on aid to dependent children to become gainfully employed and a $2 million increase in the work incentive program.

In addition, Helmbrecht told the mothers, the governor had asked for a $50,000 appropriation to fund a welfare study commission. The funds would be supplemented by $25,000 in private donations and $25,000 in federal money, he said.

The commission was expected to be named within the next few months, he said and "would include representatives of the mothers' group."

The women planned later to visit the office of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and R. Berand Houston, director of the State Department of Social Services.

Tricia planning To hostess ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon, the President's unmarried daughter, is throwing a masked ball for a group of 20 to 30 year olds at the White House May 10. It will be her first party since her father took office.

Mrs. Nixon said Tricia was making all the arrangements and that it seemed the size of the guest list would be "rather ambitious."

Restauranteer To work on Expo

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Clarence Tuma, owner and operator of the Embers Restaurant in Mount Pleasant, has been appointed to a post on the U.S. Committee for Participation in the Japan World Exposition to be held in 1970. Tuma will be responsible for helping to plan the U.S. pavilion.

By state officials:

No welfare influx seen

DETROIT (AP) — State welfare officials say they are not too worried that a Supreme Court decision this week eliminating residence requirements for welfare will result in an immediate influx of poor people to Michigan.

The Supreme Court edict Monday eliminated state requirements, such as Michigan's, that people have to live in a state for at least a year before they can be eligible for welfare benefits.

"Most of our applicants have been here quite some time," said Thomas Behnke, deputy director of the Wayne County Department of Social Services. "Longer than the year they would have to wait if they came only to collect welfare," he added.

Gov. William Milliken, in a talk to high school student leaders at Oakland University Wednesday, said the new ruling "probably" would result in a greater welfare load for the state.

But Milliken added that the Supreme Court ruling "was right and proper."

State Sen. Charles O. Zeller, R-Benton Harbor, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, predicted a deluge of out-of-state poor people.

"It is a tragedy indeed," Zollar said, "that the federal government continues to shove things like this down the throats of the taxpayers when they are trying to get out from under their oppressive burden."

Zollar added the money is needed for mental health and education.

Michigan's payments under welfare for 1967 amounted to an average of $44.40 per person each month under the aid to dependent children program. The Michigan ADC family average was $182.80 per month.

Although among the higher paying states when it comes to welfare, Michigan ranks behind such states as New York, New Jersey and Illinois.

New York averaged $60.75 for each individual on ADC and $242.50 per family.

County-wide plan
Shunned by Milan

MILAN — The City Council has rejected for the time being a proposal from Monroe County to participate in the county-wide solid waste disposal and landfill operation.

The council was asked to endorse action by the Monroe County Board of Supervisors and to pass no ordinance prohibiting landfill. The council felt it could not approve the proposal without a definite plan from the supervisors.

Milan, unlike many communities overwhelmed with ever increasing quantities of rubbish, is not pressed to find new areas for landfill.

"We're in a good position here," said Councilman Millard F. Phillips. "Our landfill site is approved and licensed by the state and has an excellent clay base. We probably have enough dumping area for the next 10 years at the present rate of fill."

Phillips added that as a representative of the city he had recently attended a conference in Lansing.

"We were shown movies on landfill and our operation is better than the example used in the movie," he said.

A full time three-man crew collects rubbish twice weekly from city homes and businesses. Some businesses, depending on their nature, require more frequent pickup. A full time landfill custodian oversees the site and backfilling operation.

The council has agreed, however, that as the population density increases a county program will become a necessity.

45-century-old mummy photographed

ANN ARBOR — Scientists at the University of Michigan School of Dentistry have developed the first X-rays and photographs of probably the oldest Egyptian mummy ever photographed.

The photographs were taken of a fifth dynasty Egyptian noble called Nefer. The pictures were taken in a long-lost tomb near a pyramid at Sakkarah, Egypt.

Inside the tomb, hieroglyphics identified Nefer as "controller of works in the palace of the king and controller of singers in upper and lower Egypt."

He died about 45 centuries ago.

Preliminary examination of the X-rays reveal that Nefer had good teeth and strong healthy jaws. He was probably of Mediterranean origin, rather than Negroid or Nubian, the X-rays indicate.

His tomb is tunneled into the side of a hill directly beside the causeway leading from the former bed of the Nile to the Zoser pyramid. The area is now a sandy desert. Throughout most of the 45 centuries, the tomb was hidden under drifted sand.

Ahmed Moussa, inspector of antiquities at Sakkarah, discovered and opened the tomb in 1966. Access has since been restricted to officials and a few selected scholars.

The burial vault is a narrow trench, carved about 12 feet down through the rock floor of the tomb. The mummy, still in its original resting place, appears to be in nearly perfect condition.

According to U-M's chief investigator on the expedition, Dr. James E. Harris, the X-rays of Nefer "are the oldest evidence yet collected by the dental research group for our studies of craniofacial variation."

Previously, the dental researchers had taken graphs of many of the pharaohs, queens, and nobles of the Middle Kingdom period. But these royal mummies — men such as Seti I, Ramses II, and Amenhotep — ruled Egypt nearly a thousand years after Nefer died and was lost beneath the sands at Sakkarah.

Both Dr. Harris and Inspector Moussa say it is likely that Nefer is the oldest mummy that has ever been X-rayed.

The project was an outgrowth of a month-long expedition into

Upper Egypt co-sponsored by the University of Michigan and Alexandria University. The group, spent most of March gathering facial X-rays and physical data from Nubian schoolchildren near Aswan and Kom Ombo. They also spent several days in and around Cairo X-raying mummies in the tombs and the National Museum.

Added to the information gathered on previous expeditions, the new data will be compiled to show the genetic and evolutionary changes that have occurred in the Nubian and Egyptian people across the centuries.

Not the least of the unusual features about Nefer's tomb is his title of "controller of singers." Moussa said this is the first time such a title appears to have been used.

Decorations on the tomb walls include a few illustrations of musicians and dancers, but the greatest number have to do with pictures of crops and harvesting activities. The latter seem to indicate that Nefer may have served as the chief commissary officer for the palace.

Liberal Czech athlete Suspended

PRAGUE (AP) — Emil Zatopek, who won the marathon and two other events in the 1952 Olympic Games at Helsinki, has been suspended from his job as coach of the Czechoslovak army sports club as a result of recent political developments.

Zatopek, 47, was an outspoken supporter of the liberal reform movement which led to the Soviet invasion of his Communist country.

Informants said he was questioned Wednesday by military investigators about public statements he made during the liberalization drive last year.

Defective parts in 18 gas wall furnaces have been reported in Ypsilanti Township. The furnaces were all made by the Honeywell Corp.

However, Township Treasurer J. Robert Cooper said all the furnaces had been inspected and corrected by township crews.

Winds break up oil slick

DETROIT (AP) — Gusts of wind up to 35 miles an hour broke a huge slick of waste material on Lake Erie into patches, as speculation continued on whether the substance could harm fish or fowl.

Three-foot-high waves separated what originally was estimated as a 35-square-mile swath of the substance.

The waste spewed accidentally from a storage pond Tuesday at a Chrysler Corp. plant in Trenton, located between Detroit and the mouth of the Detroit River at Lake Erie. The firm said an employee had left a pumping valve accidentally open for 24 hours, discharging little as two gallons of oil.

However, an official of the federal Water Pollution Control Administration estimated the total volume at closer to 260,000 gallons, with an oil content of at least 10,000 gallons.

The Chrysler spokesman said much of the waste consisted of a chemical called Dresinate, which he said was soluble in water and was harmless to humans and wildlife. The chemical is used to break down oil.

Cactus is a bloomer

As exotic plant? No, just a cactus plant — but a plant with over 100 blooms. Clarence Berberg of 210 Oak St. seems to prove that there is a knack to growing cacti. In spite of their easy culture the first and most important reason for not flowering is that cacti, like other plants, need a rest. Your plant will "rest" if you reduce your watering gradually until you give none at all for several weeks. Then, if possible, also expose the plant to cold weather, not below freezing unless you know you have a hardy plant. Wake them by raising the temperature and commencing the watering. The Berbergs let their plants "rest" while they enjoyed themselves — they went on vacation.

Sirhan attorney Reveals concern About death penalty

courtroom, Sirhan paled but remained silent.

Cooper said Sirhan reassured him a short time later in a cell that he knew his attorneys did their best. He told Cooper:

"Even Jesus Christ couldn't have saved me."

Cooper who once was president of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, was near tears when he faced newsmen after the first death verdict of his career.

The jury's decision, Cooper said, was due to "an overriding feeling by the community in the entire United States in favor of law and order." It was fueled, he added, by concern about student unrest and the prominence of Sirhan's victim.

"I'm only suggesting these jurors are governed by the same emotions of love and hate that you and I have," he said. "They can't help, as human beings, but be affected by the unrest in this country."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Lynn D. Compton, a former UCLA football star and a decorated veteran of World War II, said the outcome "expresses the feelings of the jury and their attitude toward this type of crime." The state had called Sirhan a coldblooded political assassin.

Sirhan's brother Adel, a professional musician, was the only family member in the courtroom when Sirhan's doom was declared.

Adel's eyes glistened, but he held a tight smile. In the crush of newsmen he seemed a forlorn figure as he tried to telephone his mother, who was by her radio at home in Pasadena with another of her five sons. The line was busy.

In the 66 court days since the trial began Jan. 7, the jury heard 90 witnesses, saw 154 exhibits, and listened to testimony that covered 9,000 pages of transcript. The jurors deliberated nearly 17 hours before returning the verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree last week. They went back into their little deliberations room Monday afternoon to choose between San Quentin's apple-green gas chamber, or a lifetime in prison — a verdict that theoretically would have permitted parole in seven years.

Wednesday morning, at 11:35 court clerk Alice Nishikawa read the verdict.

JIMMY MARTIN and the Sunny Mountain Boys of Nashville will feature the third annual benefit show put on by Boy Scout Troop 236 of Holmes School Sunday evening. The program, to be held from 7:30 to 11 p.m. at the Willow Run High School Auditorium, also will include Joe Prater and the Huron Valley Boys, Michigan's No. 1 state country band, and the County Line Boys. Tickets can be obtained in advance at Joe's Music Box or at the gate Sunday evening.

MILAN — "Melodies Past and Present," a spring concert, will be given by the Milan Junior and Senior High Band tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

The bands will perform separately under the direction of Steven Gustin.

"Milan Concert Fanfare," written especially for the band by local resident William Barrett will be included in the high school band program. Tickets will be available at the door.

Quiet probe started by judicial group

DETROIT (AP)—The Judicial Tenure Commission has launched a quiet investigation of the actions of Recorder's Court Judge George W. Crockett Jr., who stirred controversy March 29 when he ordered the release of some persons arrested in a shootout which left one policeman dead.

Crockett and three advisers appeared before Judge John Gillis of the State Court of Appeals on Wednesday. Several others appeared earlier before Gillis including Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan, the commissioner of the Detroit Police Department and the head of the Detroit patrolmen's union. It was expected the full tenure commission would decide Friday whether initial probes justify a full-scale investigation of the judge.

A Detroit policeman was killed March 28 and another wounded in a confrontation with several members of the Republic of New Africa. In a subsequent shootout at the New Bethel Baptist Church, four members of the militant black separatist organization were wounded.

More than 140 persons were brought to police headquarters and most were released on the order of the prosecutor and some the order of Judge Crockett who held their rights had been violated when tests to detect traces of gunpowder were made without consent. This week a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court seemed to back Crockett's view. It was related to fingerprinting of suspects.

Boys' Club Bus back In service

A bus owned by the Boys' Club of Ypsilanti is back in operation.

Executive Director Walter R. Janke said today the bus is in excellent condition after being returned twice to General Motors Corp. for correctional repairs.

His statement came in the wake of an announcement by GM, which recalled more than 10,000 school buses last month for correction of a potential brake defect. GM said that a part used in the modification may have led to six minor crashes.

Other than the Boys' Club bus, no other school buses in the Ypsilanti area were reported to have been involved.

GM had suggested that 4,000 modified buses be taken out of operation immediately.

GM said new brake kits had been installed on about 4,000 of the 10,450 buses recalled and that an investigation was under way into the six brake failures on modified buses.

A GM spokesman said the inquiry began when one of the modified buses, carrying only the driver, rolled into a parked car.

The Chevrolet and GM Coach and Truck Division temporarily halted work on the recall program until the new development could be checked out.

Private Club crews May strike

DETROIT (AP) — "It's time to say 'whoa' to the horsey set and 'dry dock' the would-be admirals."

And with that Myra Wolfgang, spokesman for the Hotel & Restaurant Employees Union in Detroit, announced a harder line in dealing for a contract with 30 private clubs in the Detroit area.

She said the clubs' last offer Tuesday was "hopelessly ridiculous." She said Wednesday the wealthy members of the clubs would be "lugging their own golf clubs and cooking their own food" if they don't meet union pay demands of the 1,000 union workers.

"The offer actually proposes a pay cut in some instances. Imagine the temerity of Detroit's business tycoons and auto barons," she said.

Mrs. Wolfgang said the union is asking for a $100 weekly scale for the lowest nontipped classification, compared to a current $61.60. Demands include raises in other categories as well.

A shutdown could cause discomfort for members of such exclusive clubs as the Detroit Athletic Club, the Detroit Yacht Club and the Country Club of Detroit.

The spokesman for the club Managers described the recent pay offer as substantial.

Employees involved in the negotiations included waiters, waitresses, bartenders, maids, cooks and grooms.

New facility In Romulus

ROMULUS — Federal Screw Works of Detroit has announced a $3.25 million program to build and equip a 100,000 square foot plant in Romulus.

Plans call for the plant to be completed by Jan. 1 with a portion of the equipment to be installed shortly after the building is completed.

Some of the operations of the Detroit division will be moved to the new plant, which will permit new bolt making equipment to be installed at the plant in Detroit.

Presented list of demands:

Eastern regents confronted by SDS

"Therefore, we demand open admissions for black and third world students in the Ypsilanti area, where 33 per cent of the black families make less than $3,000 and only 17 per cent of those over 25 have completed high school," it continued.

"Our demand to end connections between the University and the military is based on a political attack on the function of the American military in the world," the statement added.

The demand followed a short demonstration protesting Navy and Marine recruiting in McKenny Union by about 50 students Tuesday.

Chanting "Marines off campus" and "Recruiters off campus," the students packed into the small conference room that the recruiters were using and hindered interviews. The students reportedly were protesting against the alleged University discrimination to allow military recruitment in the union while all other recruiters used the Placement Center.

"The university believes that it is the students' right to be able to talk to recruiters on campus," a spokesman for the University said. "The University's policy is to allow anyone who wants to recruit to use EMU facilities."

Although facilities in the union are available to all recruiters, the Peace Corps, VISTA and military recruiters are the only ones who have taken advantage of them.

After about an hour Tuesday and with the arrival of Dr. Robert Zumwinkle, vice president for student affairs who was allowed to speak to the protestors for a minute and two campus police, the demonstrators disbursed. As they were leaving, three of the protestors proceeded to vomit in front of the recruiter's station.

Yesterday the protestors were relatively peaceful. Their only action, besides interruption of the regents meeting, was serenading and recruiters with "peace" songs.

Campus police attribute the lack of a confrontation yesterday to a counter group in support of the University's policy which outnumbered the protestors by about 4 to 1. The counter group was composed primarily of fraternity members and members of other campus organizations.

The regents decided not to take any action on the demands yesterday because they had not been notified prior to the meeting.

It was decided that the demands should be discussed with the University administrators, who are the "primary link between the university and community," before the regents take any action.

Meetings between the students and administration have already been scheduled. The administration will report back to the board at its next meeting.

The board, at the suggestion of Regent George E. Stripp, voted to direct the administration and faculty to formulate and compile a code of procedures. The code, which will be presented at the regents' next meeting, will include disciplinary actions for certain types of student behavior, grievance procedures, limitations of the administration in matters in the area of academic freedom and the manner in which grievances and demands should be presented to the board.

"Much of the difficulty in recent years in these areas has been the result of having no clearly defined policy," Stripp said. "It is important that a code of this nature be disseminated. It will be a value to the community to have such a code."

"If we are going to live together we must practice courtesy," he said.

Ray B. Loeschner, vice-president for administrative affairs, reported that a rough draft is being prepared.

MSU to 'help' dedicate Hurons' new Park

For the first time in 20 years, a Michigan State University baseball team will venture to Eastern Michigan University.

The occasion for the rare visit, scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon, will be the official dedication of the Hurons' new baseball stadium on Huron River Drive west of the campus. Dedication ceremonies, at 12:45, will precede a doubleheader between the two college baseball powerhouses.

MSU owned a 14-5 record going into a hastily-scheduled home meeting today with the same Eastern Michigan team.

The meeting today was prompted when the Spartans' scheduled game for Wednesday with Notre Dame was called off. Both Ron Oestrike's squad, and that of Danny Litwhiler, have thus been idle for the better part of a week. Tom Allen (0-1), who looked exceedingly sharp during a relief stint against Michigan, or Bill Giffin (0-1) was expected to get the call for this afternoon's pitching duties.

With the visit of Litwhiler's Spartans, local baseball fans will have the opportunity to see, first hand, the class of the Big Ten for 1969. Those near the conference's baseball race figure it'll be either the Spartans or the Minnesota Gophers who'll be representing the Big Ten in the College World Series.

Oestrike has expressed particular concern over stopping Rick Miller, a sophomore outfielder from Grand Rapids who is reputed to be capable of "hitting the ball a mile." Miller went into today's match with a .347 average and four home runs. He had 21 RBIs.

As a team, Eastern has hit slightly better than the Spartans this spring. The Hurons have a team average of .272 and MSU, .268.

The Hurons, 10-4 into today's scheduled action, are led in hitting by catcher Gary Krupinski, who's hit at a .409 clip for the eight games he's played. Jeff Peck, the Hurons' third baseman, has hit at a .370 clip while playing in all 14 games.

Saturday's pitching choices will probably be Mickey Knight and Dan Bielski for Michigan State against Rick Krumm and "a lefthander." Presumably, the lefthander could be Tom Burkert, the sophomore who pitched so well for Eastern on the southern trip. He's 2-0.

Knight is the top man on the Michigan State staff with a 3-1 record and a 1.57 ERA. Bielski is 3-2 and with a 2.91 ERA. Krumm is 2-0 for Eastern, having beaten Michigan in his last outing.

Eastern began play in the 2,200 capacity covered-grandstand stadium last spring. The park has since been acclaimed by many as one of the finest college baseball facilities in the country.

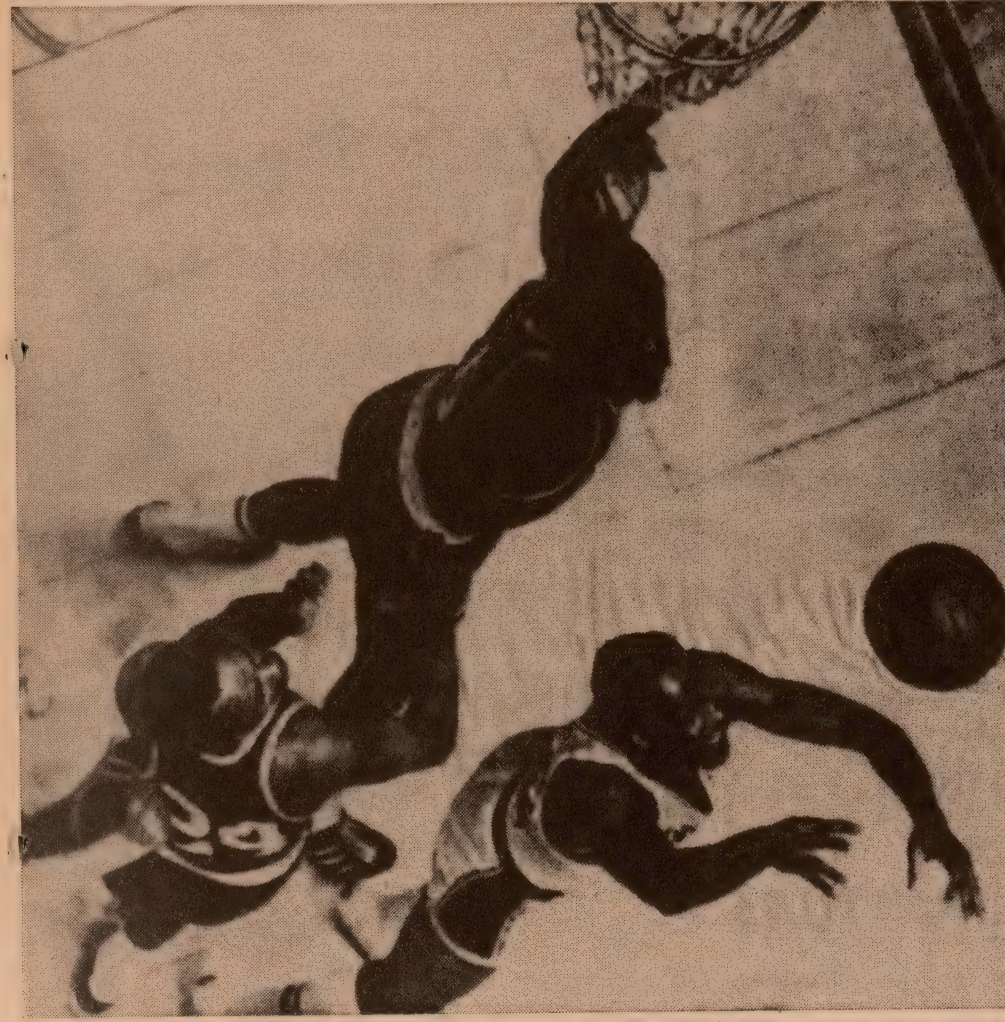

The fences are 325 feet from home plate down both foul lines and 410 feet up the alleys in right center and left center. Straightaway center is a 385-foot poke since an auxiliary wall was installed across center field.

That wall was one of several "touch up" items Oestrike had hoped to have ready for the dedication game. Another was an electronic scoreboard which now appears doubtful.

Modifications to the park will continue into next season, when the bullpens will be moved to an area behind the center-field wall. A phone hookup to the dugouts is also planned for that time and "we'd like to bring them (the relief pitchers) in on a little tractor," Oestrike explained.

Also planned is a warning track in the outfield.

Sandwiched between today's and Saturday's meeting with Michigan State will be a Friday afternoon doubleheader at the University of Detroit. That will get under way at 1 p.m.

Boston loses, 120-118

West's 53 points Pace Laker win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston's John Havlicek said it the only way it could be said:

"Jerry West was fantastic and he really killed us."

Not only did the veteran star of the Los Angeles Lakers score 53 points against the defending National Basketball Association champion Celtics in their opening playoff game Wednesday night but he had 10 assists.

As it turned out, the Lakers needed all the West contributions to pull out a 120-118 decision and take a 1-0 lead in the best of seven title series.

Player-coach Bill Russell of the Celtics declared he didn't plan any big changes for Friday night's second game, again at the Lakers' forum.

He won't, for instance, double team the 6-foot-3 superstar from West Virginia.

"West was the difference, but with a two-point loss here in the opening game, I'm not going to change a thing," Russell said.

"It wasn't the 53 points that beat us, it was the 10 assists."

Havlicek, with 37 points, paced the Celtics who led 58-56 at the half and 84-82 in a game which saw the lead change hands 21 times.

The key came with less than two minutes to play when West hit two jumpers from the side for a three point lead at 113-110. Four times the Celtics cut the margin to one, but never again went ahead.

Elgin Baylor scored 24 for the Lakers while Sam Jones had 21 for the Celtics. In the rebound department, Russell collected 27 and Wilt Chamberlain, 22. Big Bill scored 16 and Wilt 15 in their personal duel.

White Sox tough In second home; Twins win again

By the Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox have opened their second front in the American League war.

The White Sox played their first of 11 transplanted home games in Milwaukee County Stadium Wednesday night with Gary Peters scattering six hits and Buddy Bradford rapping a three-run homer in a 7-1 victory over California. Artistically beautiful. A crowd of 8,565 paid to watch the game in 41 degree weather. Financially, not so beautiful.

In nine home - away-from - home games at Milwaukee last season the White Sox never drew less than 20,000 fans. The numbers inspired a return for 1969 and two new teams added two more games to the Milwaukee schedule.

That brought an angry retort from Arthur Allyn, owner of the Sox, who as much as told Haney to mind California's business and not Chicago's.

Elsewhere in the American League Thursday, Baltimore edged Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings, Kansas City nipped Seattle 4-3, Minnesota topped Oakland 7-6 and Washington whacked Boston 9-3. New York's game at Cleveland was postponed by cold weather.

Denny outdueled on mound As Detroit loses in tenth

BALTIMORE (AP) — When Denny McLain won 31 games last season, his Detroit teammates got him an average of five runs per outing.

But McLain looked as sharp as ever when he retired 21 men in a row Wednesday night, but the lack of "bat power" proved the difference as Detroit lost a 10-inning affair to Baltimore 3-2.

The Tiger loss dropped Detroit two games behind the Orioles, who lead the American League's eastern division. The teams meet again tonight, with Earl Wilson, 1-1, pitching for Detroit and Dave McNally, 1-0, on the mound for Baltimore.

McLain now has two wins and three losses for the season, a far cry from last year when he was the American League's top hurler.

But it was Mike Cuellar who took the pitching honors Wednesday, as he retired 25 consecutive batters with the help of a double-play ground-er following a leadoff walk to Jim Northrup in the fourth.

Both teams scored twice in the second inning. The Tigers used a walk, infield singles by McLain and Mickey Stanley and a double by Dick McAuliffe for their two runs.

The team of Ellie Hendricks and Mark Belanger produced all Baltimore runs. In the second, Hendricks singled and Belanger hit his second home run of the year to tie the game, that went scoreless until the bottom of the 10th.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith planned to remove McLain after the tenth in the game — played in chilly 50 degree weather—but fate intervened.

Catcher Hendricks lined to the rightfield corner, stretching the hit to a two-bagger when Al Kaline bumped into the wall as he went for the ball.

Dave Johnson then popped out. Belanger then hit past Dick McAuliffe, and Kaline charged the ball in hopes of cutting off the runner at home plate. But Kaline dropped the

'Talk' earns Rockets win

LIVONIA — Playing on an extremely muddy field, Westland Glenn scored five runs in the second inning, but needed two more on a fluke play in the sixth to earn a 7-5 decision over Livonia Franklin here yesterday.

The Rockets, behind the sharp five-hit pitching of ace Kerry Webb, led all the way except for the first inning. That was when Franklin bunched three singles for its only earned run of the game.

In the second, Glenn went ahead to stay on singles by Webb, Benny Campbell, Ray Viger, Bill Shellenbarger and Darrell Newsome. Rick Bergeron also walked and scored on Bob Briggs' suicide squeeze bunt.

The unusual play in the sixth inning occurred after Campbell had led off with a single. He was called safe at second base as the Patriots were trying for a double play on Briggs' infield grounder. The Franklin players began to argue — without calling timeout — and the alert Campbell scooted all the way home during the ruckus.

At the same time, Briggs went to second and later scored on a wild pitch.

The victory gives the Rockets a 1-0 Northwest Suburban Conference mark, and a 2-1 record overall. It was the first time out for Webb who struck out 12 and walked only two.

Dodgers top Reds; Koosman wins first

By the Associated Press

Larry Dierker and Jerry Koosman have written off a couple of embarrassing numbers and replaced them with zeros.

Dierker braked Houston's seven-game skid Wednesday night with a two-hit 4-0 triumph over San Diego while Koosman cut a pre-game 9.00 earned run average down to size by hurling the New York Mets past Pittsburgh 2-0.

Don Sutton, who started the day with a 7.04 ERA, spotted Cincinnati three early runs, then stopped the Reds cold in pitching the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 6-3 victory in the only other National League action.

The Atlanta-San Francisco, Chicago and Philadelphia-Montreal games were rained out.

The Astros, humiliated by Cincinnati 14-0 Tuesday night, ended their seven-game losing streak as Dierker, 2-2, held San Diego hitless after the third inning. The Houston right-hander gave up an infield single by Ed Spiezio in the second and a single by Roberto Pena in the third, then retired 14 Padres in order.

Norm Miller doubled in the first inning and scored the only run Dierker needed on a single by Curt Blefary. A walk, singles by Miller and Joe Morgan and a balk by reliever Frank Reberger gave the Astros two more runs in the sixth. Another scored in the eighth on a basesloaded walk to Miller.

Koosman, a 19-game winner for the Mets as a rookie last year, scattered five hits on the way to his first 1969 victory after two setbacks. The shutout lowered the left-hander's ERA to 4.41.

Cleon Jones stroked three hits, drove in one run and scored another while grabbing the NL batting lead with a .444 average. Jones' run-scoring single off Jim Bunning, after a double by Ken Boswell, sent the Mets ahead in the first inning. In the fourth, Jones doubled and scored on Ed Kranepool's single.

Sutton, clipped for a two-run double by Tony Perez in the first inning and a RBI single by Bob Tolan in the second, settled down to finish with a six-hitter and his first victory in three decisions. The loss snapped a three-game winning string for the Reds.

The Dodgers shot in front 4-3 with a four-run burst off Gary Nolan in the fourth and Ted Sizemore's two-run single in the eighth wrapped up their seventh victory in eight home games.

Errors costly In Lincoln's loss

Lincoln outthrew Dexter, 5-3, but the Railspitters could manage only one run in their game and had to settle for their third defeat of the season, 3-1, yesterday. They have won one game.

The Dreadnaughts jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a double by Greg Ianni, but the real damage came in the third when they added two more without the benefit of a hit.

Lincoln made three errors and Dexter had a walk and sacrifice fly to account for the winning tallies.

The Railspitters, who left more than 10 men on the bases, had the opportunities, but could push only one run across in the bottom of the third.

Starting catcher Keith Stetler walked and was followed by Jim Brown who also had a free pass. Stetler came home on Bruce Acuff's double, but the rally ended there.

Lincoln will entertain Chelsea today in an effort to even its Southeastern Conference record at 2-2.

Flyers rally, win

Willie Thomas doubled and Wayne Miller tripled to give Willow Run both of its runs in the fourth inning yesterday and the Flyers went on to defeat Hamtramck, 2-1.

The win evened Willow Run's record at 1-1 and sets the stage for today's Twin Valley Conference showdown at Romulus.

Jim Childers, in relief of Smitty Burnett, was the winning pitcher. He came in with men on second and third and two away in the third inning and retired the first batter he faced.

Hamtramck's lone run came in the fourth inning and was unearned as Childers gave up only two hits in his 4 1-3-inning stint. He also picked a man off first base — his third victim this season.

Batteries: (Hamtramck) — JOHN PETROWSKI, John Odle (5) and Bob Drygowski, (Willow Run) — Smitty Burnett, JIM CHILDERS (3) and Alan Grater. RBI: Willow Run — Willie Thomas, Wayne Miller.

Double: Thomas. Triple: Miller.

Montreal seeks to clinch Stanley Cup East title

BOSTON (AP) — Rogatien Vachon, whose spectacular goaltending two nights ago put Montreal one-up on Boston in their Stanley Cup playoff series, is expected to be in the net again tonight as the Canadiens seek to wrap it up.

The young netminder took over for Lorne "Gump" Worsley, who was nursing an injured finger, and proceeded to frustrate the Bruins all night in Montreal's 4-2 victory at the Forum Tuesday night.

That gave the Canadiens a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 East Division finals.

Worsley still is not completely recovered, and Coach Claude Ruel is expected to go with Vachon again as the Canadiens seek to break the home ice monopoly which has featured the series.

Hornet thinclads Win 4th straight

IDA — Running over a muddy and windy course here yesterday, Saline won its fourth straight dual track meet this season, 73-45 over Ida.

The Hornets showed a lot of depth in winning all three places in the shot put, both relays and limiting the host school to only four first place scores.

Final scores: Saline 73, Ida 45.

Pole vault: 1. Jerry Hill (S), 9-6; 2. Rod White (S), 9 feet.

High jump: 1. Bob Metz (I), 5-4; 2. Hill (S), 5-4; 3. White (S), 5-4.

Long jump: 1. Bob Setlock (I), 17-10; 2. Keith Smith (S), 17-6 1/2.

Shot putt: 1. Gary Ernst (S), 45-3; 2. Don Craigmile (S), 37-9 1/2; 3. Gary Freeman (S), 37-7.

Two mile run: 1. Mike Barland (S), 11:34.3; 3. Dave Martin (S) 11:48.

880 yard relay: 1. Saline (Dan Laskey, Don Girsch, Steve McKillop, Smith), 1:40.1.

1 mile run: 1. Dennis Ticknor (S), 5:18.2; 3. Joe McCann (S), 5:23.4.

120 high hurdles: 1. Dave Iott (I), 18.1 seconds; 2. White (S), 18.2 seconds.

100 yard dash: 1. Dave Douthart (S), 2:16.2.

440 yard dash: 1. Tim Davis (S), 57.2 seconds; 2. Jerry Lake (S), 57.7 seconds; 3. Laskey (S), 59.3 seconds.

180 yard low hurdles: 1. Iott (I), 23.4 seconds; 2. White (S), 23.4 seconds; 3. Hill (S), 24.4 seconds.

220 yard dash: 1. Tom Firestone (I), 25.2 seconds; 2. Smith (S), 25.7 seconds.

1 mile relay: 1. Saline (Douthart, Tim Davis, Don Davis, Lake), 3:59.

Meanwhile, Boston Coach Harry Sinden has indicated he'll wait until the last minute before naming his goaltender.

If he sticks to his originally announced play-'til-you-lose policy, it will be Eddie Johnston, since Gerry Cheevers was in the nets in Montreal.

A big question mark for the Bruins is the availability of Derek Sanderson, the fiery center who doubles as a penalty-killer and whose aggressive play can perk up the entire team.

Sanderson suffered a charley horse in his thigh in a collision during Sunday's 3-2 Boston victory, and he sat out the Tuesday night game.

Portable gardens vary look

The housewife who loves to rearrange the furniture every now and then can have great fun with a kind of garden that is booming in popularity. It's called container gardening.

Every kind of plant from petunias to pine trees are being grown in containers that can be moved around wherever they are most effective or most needed. Shrubs, trees, vines, every kind of plant can be moved from indoors to out, from front yard to patio, at a moment's notice. They can be in the spotlight when they are looking their best and banished when they go into a decline.

Better take a second look! Seeing is believing

'How-to' stress set at garden fair

Visitors at the Lawn and Garden Fair at Michigan State Fairground on May 2nd and 3rd will be able to find out all about the proper methods of caring for the fruit trees in their backyards. Several on-going demonstrations, presented by expert horticulturists will be of interest.

James Lincoln, District Horticulturist for Southeastern Michigan, will be showing how to prune and train fruit trees. He will have actual trees on hand, in the process of being pruned. The County Extension Director from Mt. Clemens will be showing the same procedures in grape culture.

One of the men's garden clubs will show all of the processes and techniques used in grafting and budding of fruit trees. Other experts will deal with strawberry culture, and with raspberries and other bramble fruits. Still another show - how presentation will deal with the proper and safe use of pesticides in the home fruit garden.

The Lawn and Garden Fair is presented on Friday, May 2nd, from 4:00-9:30 p.m. and Saturday, May 3rd, from 9:00-6:00 p.m. only, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Woodward Ave., just south of Eight Mile Rd. in Detroit.

Admission is free except for a small parking fee.

The Fair is developed to bring together a large number of resource people, presenting a large number of on-going demonstrations dealing with almost all phases of non-commercial horticulture. Subjects covered will include lawns, vegetable gardens, shade trees, shrubs, flowers, insect and other pest control, fertilization and landscaping.

Resource persons assisting come from many sources: Michigan State University, local Extension Service offices, City and County Parks and Recreation staffs, local landscape firms, local flower and ornamental growers, and from many horticultural organizations and garden clubs. Approximately 30,000 homeowners attended the Fair in 1968, and a larger attendance is expected this year.

The trade show, which provides exposure to the latest development in lawn and garden equipment and supplies, will be greatly expanded this year. The emphasis for the event, however, continues to stress the "how-to-do-it" demonstration of gardening techniques

'Paintbrush' your garden

Do you need, somewhere in your garden, a mass of color — not of a single hue but nine bright ones that blend with one another yet can be used separately for indoor decoration?

If so, there's a zinnia called Paintbrush for its paint pot colors, that fills the need. It is medium-size with double blooms and grows easily from seed.

Archdiocese tells Of plans to close 15 more schools

DETROIT (AP)—Acting on an investigative report citing extreme costs to run schools, Archbishop John F. Dearden announced Wednesday that six Catholic high schools and nine elementary schools in his archdiocese must close in June.

He said it was with "extreme regret" that he made the announcement, which will affect 1,600 high school and 1,800 grade school pupils. The new closing order brings to 47 the number of archdiocesan schools scheduled to shut down.

"Although efforts will be made to take in some of the students at surviving (Catholic) schools in the area," said an archdiocese statement, "most students are expected to be added to public school lists in Detroit and suburbs."

The decision to order the closing came after a report was submitted by Auxiliary Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, Vicar General of the Archdiocese.

Bishop Gumbleton told Archbishop Dearden, a Cardinal-designate, that, "Everything possible that could be done has been done."

According to the statement, "some 15 schools originally on the 'closing list' were given temporary extensions of life as a result of extraordinary efforts by parishes."

Bishop Gumbleton denied the announcement was timed to elicit sympathy from the state Legislature which is considering a bill to give tax money to nonpublic schools.

Meanwhile, some east side Detroit Catholic parents marched in protest of the latest closings announcement. About 45 parents paraded in front of the archdiocesan headquarters pleading for a reconsideration of decisions to close four of the schools.

"If we don't bring about a solution (to financial problems) this year we're going to be talking about closing all the Catholic schools," Bishop Gumbleton said. "What we're doing this year is trying to keep going the best we can, hoping we'll get some help from the state."

Latest high schools scheduled to close in June are: St. Gregory, St. Thomas, East Catholic, St. Casimir and St. Cecilia, all in Detroit, and St. Louis in Mount Clemens.

Latest scheduled grade school closings are: St. Patrick, St. Dominic, St. Benedict, St. Anthony, and either Madonna or Blessed Sacrament Cathedral. Six schools are to be consolidated into two from among St. Charles, St. Edward, Annunciation, St. Catharine, St. Rose, and Our Lady of Sorrows.

Tax poses New threat To stadium

DETROIT (AP) — An excise tax on entertainment in Detroit could destroy chances for a downtown sports stadium, doom the city's movie theaters and jeopardize convention business, a Common Council hearing was told Wednesday.

Edwin J. Anderson, vice president of the Detroit Lions football team, said a 5 per cent amusement tax which has been proposed by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, could force professional sports to the suburbs.

"Detroit's motion picture theaters are closing at an alarming rate," said Milton London, representing a state theater owners association. London added the proposal would "seal the doom of Detroit's theaters."

London said Detroit had 166 movie houses in 1950 and now has 32, with several of them on the brink of economic disaster.

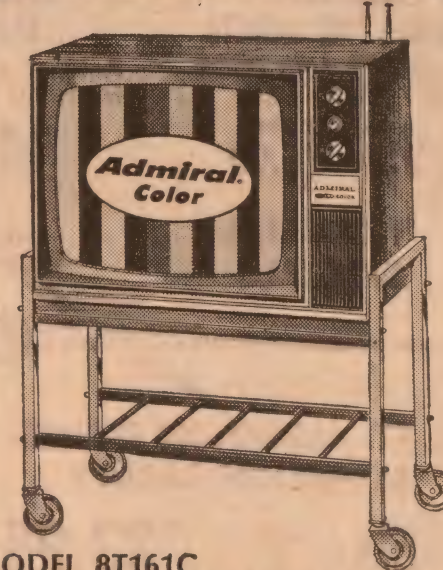

Detroit escaper In Ohio jail

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 22-year-old man accused of murder in Detroit who has been the subject of a three-month search has turned up—in a Cleveland jail where he has languished for six weeks.

Discovered through an anonymous tip was Stanley L. Mitchell, who had escaped Detroit authorities by picking the lock of his leg irons at the receiving branch of Detroit General Hospital Feb. 1.

Life & Leisure: A guide for dedicated fun-lovers

What's at the movies tonight

CANDY: How could a film with Richard Burton, Marlon Brando, Charles Coburn and Walter Matthau be all bad? Somehow "Candy" manages to be. In an utterly tasteless and insensitive treatment of Terry Southern's masterful satire, the producers have created a film as boring as it is vulgar. The waste is unforgivable. —Algier's Drive-in

WHO'S AFRAID OF VIRGINIA WOOLF? The Burton's are at their magnificent best in this brutal psychodrama about a middle-aged couple inextricably bound in delusion and self-destruction. Under Mike Nichols' sure direction, the piece loses little in its transition from the stage, and even those who saw the play will find the film a new and exciting experience. —Willow Drive-in

WHERE EAGLES DARE: Richard Burton and Clint Eastwood are the only big names in this high-powered war story, but the film is nevertheless headed for a spot not claimed since "The Great Escape." Basically the story of a group of experts assigned to rescue a general from the Nazis, it is so suspensefully complicated that one never knows what lies beyond the next twist. The genre is redeemed, and the real adventure-monger is vindicated. (M) — Fox Village, Quo Vadis

HELL IN THE PACIFIC: Lee Marvin and Toshiko Mi-fune star as an American marine and a Japanese officer marooned on the same desert island to fight a microcosmic version of WWII. The producers have admirably resisted fairstyle transformations, but they have also foregone any other significant character development. Two fine actors are frozen in a tableau of visual antagonism — a good still, but hardly a full-length motion picture. —Michigan

THE FOX: Sandy Dennis, Anne Heywood and Keir Dullea turn in fine performances as the participants in a slightly macabre love triangle. The film distorts the original Lawrence story with an unnecessary emphasis on the more sordid aspects of the pervading sexual tension, but it is handled well enough to become a viable artistic alternative. —Willow Drive-in

BULLITT: Director Peter Yates has taken two movie clichés — the grimly honest cop in a corrupt world and one-dimensional "star" Steve McQueen — and made them both work. (M) — Quo Vadis Penthouse II

CAMELOT: The lavish film fantasia of the knights and ladies of this best loved of all storybook kingdoms. Spectacular scenes, sumptuous costumes and a sensationally sing-alongable score — what could be bad? —Martha Washington

PRUDENCE AND THE PILL: Blithe little romantic farce all about the new morality spawned by the introduction of The Pill into American society. A potentially risqué subject, the title might well be descriptive of the producers' attack; the film is solidly in the Doris Day school of mostly bluff. —Algier's Drive-in

DUFFY: When daddy plans a million pound gold shipment, his none-too-affectionate sons enlist the aid of their good friend Duffy in a plan to hijack the floating treasure. Tables turn more than once in this slick caper, with James Coburn, James Fox and company carrying it off far better than the uninspired script deserves. —Wayne Drive-in

IRMA LA DOUCE: Shirley MacLaine and Jack Lemmon star in this light-hearted classic about a "Prostitute with a heart of gold." Despite the thickish subject matter, there's no reason why it shouldn't be a fun family evening. —Ypsi-Ann Drive-in

THE PRODUCERS: Small-time producer Zero Mostel contrives to make a killing by collecting in advance for a play so dreadful that it will have to close after one performance. Naturally, the play — a musical fantasy about Adolf Hitler — is greeted with a satirical smash. We wish we could say the same for film, but this reviewer, at least, found it just a bit hard to laugh. —Campus

THE SUBJECT WAS ROSES: Patricia Neal won an Academy Award nomination for her role in this story of a young man who returns from the war and is able to see his parents' tottering marriage in proper perspective for the first time. Based on Frank Gilroy's Pulitzer-Prize-winning play, the movie does justice to the author's incisive family portrait. —Campus

THE NIGHT THEY RAIDED MINSKY'S: A nostalgic tribute to the early days of burlesque, no less engaging for the fact that it shows the seamy, as well as the glittery, side of the theater of the 20's. Combining documentary film clip, a slapstick plot, and an excellent score, "Minsky's" may well be the musical success of the year. —Ypsi-Ann Drive-in

PLAY DIRTY: War is hell, right; and the squadron of junkies, homosexuals and thieves that make up this allied mission are demonic enough to make Rommel's rats look almost good by comparison. With so much dirtiness around, it's only natural that the picture would come out smelling a bit, too. —Wayside

2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY: Spectacular cinema effects have made Stanley Kubrick's futuristic epic one of the most well-deserved hits of the season. The relative absence of dialogue and narrative only increases the visual magnificence of a film which challenges all the unique possibilities of the film media. (G) — Quo Vadis Penthouse I

ANGEL IN MY POCKET: Andy Griffith plays his guileless homespun self in this tale of a newly-ordained minister whose first post lands him in the middle of a town feud which threatens to bring down the church. It's a well-worn story; but it's the few films left for family funny and human and of consumption. (G) — University Drive-in

JOANNA: A very modern movie about a very contemporary girl who's pretty and adventurous and sleeps with a lot of different men because she likes them. There are no moral judgments here, not even any philosophical comments; just a story about people which is charming and happy simply because it doesn't pretend to be anything else, and bold and exciting because real people are. —Fifth Forum

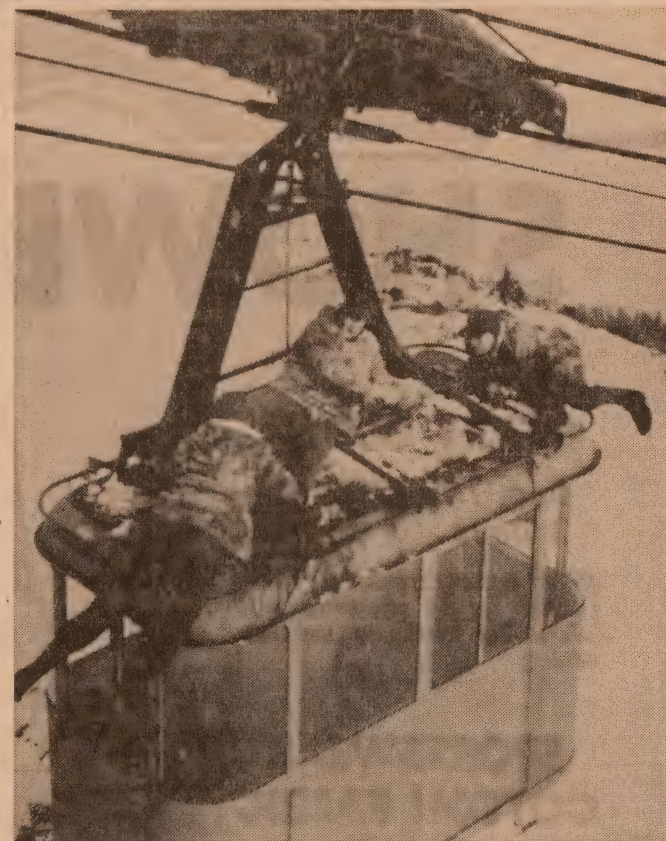

CHARLY: Sensitive story of a mentally-retarded man given a second chance by a miraculous brain operation, and eventually plunged back into darkness when the new advance proves temporary. An easy candidate for embarrassing bathos, the film is saved by dedicated low-key direction and Cliff Robertson's almost loving portrayal of the ill-fated hero. (G) — La Parisen

WRECKING CREW: Dean Martin dredges up agent Matt Helm for a second outing, this time in pursuit of a billion-dollar shipment of hi-jacked gold. Dean sings spoofs and sexes it up a bit with Elke Sommer, Nancy Kwan and Tina Louise to turn out a film remarkable only for the fact that it doesn't even pretend to be anything more than a rerun of earlier Dino efforts. —Wayne Drive-in

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL SHERIFF: A Western to end all Westerns... and it probably will, as it methodically does all the standard genre clichés to utter hilarity. James Garner plays the "stranger," Walter Brennan, "the vicious outlaw" and Joan Hackett, "the sweet young thing" in a film which is really too witty and sophisticated to claim a 'G' rating—State

THE BIG BOUNCE: Domestic sex melee seemingly centering around a youthful psychotic who does groovy things like fornicate on cemetery slabs and smash windows. Physical production sets a vulgar low, dialogue is worse and acting crummier still. The heroine's up-finger salute at the grand finale seems a fitting comment on the whole film. On a double bill with "Harper." —State-Wayne

Richard Burton fights off two assailants in a desperate battle atop a cable car in "Where Eagles Dare," a classic war adventure now at the Fox Village and Quo Vadis Theaters.

Detroit

POISON APPLE: Ingenious decor creating a little bit of Never-Never-Land in little old Detroit. Originally slated to include a seething caldron of forbidden fruit, the poison apple in question now refers to a wild drink that will knock you on your ear. But do try to catch a bit of the entertainment — mostly folksy and rather good — before hand. —Poison Apple, 13100 E. Jefferson, Detroit; cover $1 on weekdays, $1.50 on Saturday.

PIER ONE: Weekday afternoons it's just another American restaurant, but after five it's a Dionysian festival with Greek dinners served in the Dolphin Room until 1 a.m., and entertainment in the Mediterranean Room provided by the Athenian Quintet and an authentic belly dancer. —506 Shelby, Detroit; 961-6108 for reservations

DIAMOND LIL'S: Decor from deep in antiquity, the now sound of the folk-rock Contempos, and some unbelievable drinks that haven't been invented yet. Time comes together and they stand still.—Diamond Lil's, Mack at Kirby, Brossé Pointe; 881-3717 for reservations

GOLDEN FALCON: Dancing seven days a week to the big loud rock sounds of the now generation. Accommodations in another room for the quiet drinkers.—Golden Falcon; 312 S. 4th Ave.; must be 21.

THE MOON: Sharp new supper club on the northside. Small but select menu with dinners starting at $6.25, and nightly entertainment featuring Izzy and the Hair-raisers in the Lunar Lounge and John Curry's sparkling revue "Salute to Broadway" in the Velvet Cavern. —22010 N. Chrysler Service Dr., Hazel Park; open six days a week;

RED GARTER: Detroit branch of the great chain that marks a favorite night-spot in most of the major cities. Old-time music of banjos, musical saws and the honkiest piano around. Peanuts and pretzels with beer and cocktails from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. nightly.—1246 Library behind Hudson's; $1 cover on Friday and Saturday night.

BUDDY'S AND JIMMY'S: You'll think twice before entering the ramshackle bar at 3600 Cass Ave. But steel yourself, and you'll step right into Little Ol' Detroit. Nothing's been changed in 40 years. For entertainment, there's a septuagenarian piano-player named Dewey who remembers "em all — even "It Takes a Long Tall Brown-skinned Gal to Make a Preacher Lay His Bible Down" — Frances the singing bar-maid whose voice shatters bullet-proof glass on "Bill Bailey", and Buddy, the owner, who used to be in vaudeville and can still do a soft-shoe and sing an outrageously funny "Ace in the Hole." —Tuesday thru Saturday

THE OAKWOOD COLLEGE MUSICAL SHOW-CASE will present a concert this evening in Pease Auditorium of selections from Verdi, Mozart and Thompson composed for choral ensemble, quartet and solo performance. The select singing group hails from the small Seventh-Day Adventist college in Huntsville, Ala., but their reputation has spread throughout the country and may be carried abroad with a European tour this summer. Comprised of 15 male and nine female voices, "Showcase" is under the direction of Jon Robertson, whose highly-acclaimed precision conducting is evident in the group's performance. —EMU Pease Auditorium; tonight at 8; admission free

EMU DANCE CONCERTS: Classical ballet pieces and contemporary dance productions are well blended in the concerts to be presented tonight, tomorrow and Saturday by selected dance students at the university. "Black Spirituals," choreographed and directed by resident artist Philip Stamp, will highlight the program, with other numbers including a satire on popular dance, a musical spoof on the silent film era and a dance inspired by Picasso's "Guernica." Two dances which include readings from Singer Buchanan's poetry will be presented, and Jeanne Bostian's "Zen and Haiku" will be repeated for the second year. The concert series is dedicated to Miss Augusta Harris, retiring chairman of EMU's women's physical education department with proceeds going towards a scholarship fund. — EMU Quirk Auditorium, 8 p.m. program; admission $1.25

EARLY AMERICANA bearing such tradition-bound marks as that of Ye Olde Curiosity Shoppe in St. Joseph, Mich., will be very much in evidence this weekend at the Grosse Pointe Rotary's Fourteenth Annual Antique Show-Sale. For those of a more exotic bent, other objects will include Oriental and European rugs, pottery and statuary, as well as a large collection of jewelry, china, art glass and coins. Everything from a 17th century Italian chest to jewelry fashioned from Great Lakes shipwreck salvage. You can even have your own collector's items made on the spot, as portraitist Nancy Ullvang and caricaturist Chuck Kohl will both be available for sittings throughout the three-day event. — Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore Drive; tomorrow through Sunday from 1 to 10 p.m.; admission $1.25 with free parking available on the grounds.

Everything shown will be available for purchase, but browsers are also encouraged to participate. — Ypsilanti Armory, 1025 S. Huron; tomorrow and Saturday from noon to 10 p.m.; Sunday from noon to 7 p.m.; admission $1; free parking available

THE SAP'S A RUNNIN' at Shepherd, Michigan where town folks are preparing for their annual Maple Syrup Festival this weekend. There's plenty of pancakes, home-made sausage and fresh syrup for visitors who want to take part, as well as pancake eating contests, a tug-of-war, helicopter rides, sky diving and the Maple Sugar Ball scheduled for Saturday night. The three-day fest runs through Sunday, so if you happen to be passing mid-state this weekend, why not stop in?

Why not just break down and get a used car that won't.

No matter how good a used car seems to be at first, Chevy OK inspectors assume it's guilty until proved innocent.

So they throw the book at all candidates for OK tags that come their way. Inspect the daylights out of them. Check them out on the road. Weed out the losers. Recondition the winners where necessary, then award them their OK Used Car tags. The result is "OK Specials" that are very special indeed.

As you can see, an OK tag goes on only after Chevy OK dealers know they've got what they're after.

Which is a used car they can be sure of. And isn't that the only kind you want for yourself, too!

More makes. More models.
More use in a used car
at your Chevy Dealer's OK lot.

One TV special wins, other loses

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — "This Town Will Never Be The Same," Wednesday night's NBC special, was an earnest attempt to say something meaningful in dramatic terms about the death of a newspaper.

It did make a lot of statements, ones made every time a paper dies, about the public's loss. But the hour, by Ed di Blasi, was pretty shapeless and thoroughly unsatisfying from a dramatic standpoint. We were never able to care enough about the faltering paper or the people who worked for it—we didn't know them well enough—to become upset at their plight.

The story opened with labor presenting the newspaper's management with take-it-or-leave-it demands. From the outset, it seemed a foregone conclusion that the paper, with declining circulation and advertising revenue, would fold.

The story starred Barry Sullivan, playing the paper's middle-aged managing editor in a style reminiscent of "Front Page."

The presiding over the newspaper's demise was not enough for an hour, however, so a subplot came along. A brash young reporter turned up some evidence that the managing editor's son was a drug pusher. Perhaps it was added to demonstrate that both the paper and its top editorial hand both had lost touch.

E. G. Marshall had almost a cameo role as the publisher who decided to scuttle his sinking ship. When the hour was over, nothing had been determined except that a newspaper was dead. The viewer left with the feeling that the program had stopped rather than that a drama had been concluded.

It was followed by a superb CBS documentary, "The Japanese," which was a lively, perceptive lecture on the character of the people by former Ambassador Edwin Reischauer.

Reischauer, now a college professor, said, "A nation doesn't have to be Western to be successful," and pointed out that the Japanese with "a thin veneer of the West," have found ways to handle difficulties, including urban overcrowding, which we might profitably study.

The most interesting portions of the hour showed Japan's colorful mixture of the old with the new—modern businessmen on a night on the town, frugging—in kimonos, high speed trains and efficient steel production in a land where men still practice swordsmanship and archery as self-discipline.

Also shown was Japanese domestic life, with the man the undisputed head of the family and the woman's place still the home.

It was a most successful program—educational while entertaining.

Anti-Milliken school bill delayed

Senate measure falls $700,000 short of governor's goal

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee balked Wednesday at reporting out a state school aid bill that fell some $700,000 short of the $844.58 million sought by Gov. William Milliken.

Committee Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, promised a second go-around with measure today.

Addition of $1 million to the proposal could break the 44 committee deadlock and allow the bill to be reported out, one source said.

One Republican joined the three Democratic committee members Wednesday in voting against the bill that would have lopped some $5.7 million off the appropriation recommended by Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

Sen. Harold Hungerford, R-Lansing, voted against reporting out the bill, but declined comment on his action.

Sources indicated Hungerford rejected the proposal because he felt the spending level was too high. Democrats voted against it, sources added, because they felt the figure too low.

Democratic leaders in the upper chamber had been quick to criticize Milliken's budget recommendation as well as the Stamm proposal because, they said, the bills failed to meet the state's educational problems immediately.

Milliken had urged quick passage of his proposed $85 million increase over last year's school aid appropriation and said he would appoint a study commission to deal with total educational reform. The Legislature should act on commission recommendations this fall, he said.

Many Democrats want more than $85 million more for schools—but Milliken and Zollar maintain the state cannot afford a higher increase.

In the House, meanwhile, appropriations Committee Chairman William Copeland,

D-Wyandotte, said he would put off consideration of a school aid proposal until the Senate committee completes deliberations.

"It would save a lot of time if we used the Senate bill," said Copeland, who earlier had promised to put the measure — if passed — at "the bottom of the pile" of bills pending his committee consideration.

Copeland had appeared irate over the Senate's early action on the bill which traditionally moves first in the lower chamber.

The State Board of Education and other groups have warned that failure to pass the school aid bill soon could lead to teacher strikes in the fall. Districts must know how much money they will receive from the state before they can conduct "meaningful" early negotiations, the board said.

Milliken aide started recall

LANSING (AP) — An idealistic young Michigan State University graduate student has produced some potent political embarrassment for the governor's office.

It turns out that Robert Rothbard, 23, the MSU student who started circulating petitions to recall Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, R-Mich., works in an executive branch office under Gov. William Milliken.

Rothbard has been told, in effect: "Knock it off."

State Civil Service regulations against political activity by Civil Service employees forbid his outside enthusiasm, Rothbard was told.

Milliken previously had refused any comment on the traffic incident in Washington, D.C. involving Chamberlain, his fellow Republican.

Rothbard said he started a committee for a recall drive after reading newspaper reports that Chamberlain hit a police officer with his car, then drove off before he was stopped by the officer and citizens.

Chamberlain was cleared following a hearing by the Washington, D.C. corporation counsel.

Rothbard, now working on his master's degree in urban planning, is employed in the State Office of Planning and Coordination, which comes under the executive office.

George Weeks, press secretary for the governor, said Milliken did not initiate the move to squelch Rothbard.

"It might have been someone in the executive office," Weeks said, "although I understand inquiries started between the office he works for and Civil Service."

A letter to Rothbard from George Durak, administrative officer for his department, said Civil Service interpreted his actions in the recall campaign as illegal political activity for a civil servant.

The letter quoted a ruling from John O'Connor, head of the employees relations division for civil service.

Rothbard was told civil servants can sign nominating or recall petitions "but at no time" can they initiate or circulate petitions.

"The same prohibition applies to directing or assisting in the direction of a political recall campaign," the letter said. "In summary, you should cease all activity in your recall campaign."

Rothbard said he would give up leadership of the recall drive "because I want to finish school and have a family (a wife) to support."

"But I regret I'm not allowed to continue," he said. "It is too bad that a student cannot peacefully work through the system to bring about a change."

Rothbard said he first became interested in the recall campaign because he is from Washington, D.C., and his sister is engaged to a policeman there.

"I think a public servant who expects people to obey the laws should also obey the laws," he said of Chamberlain.

Rothbard said a committee had been formed and the recall campaign would continue without his leadership.

He said he understood there was a precedent on the ban on his political activity because he comes under civil service.

Asked if he thought the quick decision on the ban was politically motivated, he answered: "No comment."
